1. LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

In 2017 Atresmedia navigated a highly complex environment. Once again, our ability to adapt to constantly shifting scenarios has been put to the test. Given the difficulties that we have faced, we come before you with a sense of pride in our achievement: a set of figures for the year that can only be described as excellent. The Group's performance reflects the efforts of our strong team of professionals, the unflagging and valuable support of the Board and, of course, our shareholders' confidence in the management team. For yet another year, Atresmedia has proved that it is a strong and successful company.

The fact that we are Spain's largest Communication Group is no mere accident. It is the outcome of the way we do business. For a number of years, we have pursued, vigorously and with conviction, a strategy predicated on quality content, professionalism, a diversity of viewpoints and support for the industry. Our focus on these vectors of action, which cut across all our areas of activity, is the key to our success. What defines us and places us in a leading position in the eyes of the general public, which values and rewards our efforts to avoid the easy way out and, instead, achieve excellence.

We have undeniably proved that our model brings together sustainable leadership with an attractive return on investment; our strong business performance is wedded to the recognition and confidence of our viewers, listeners and advertisers. The worth of our business philosophy is borne out by the facts and by our performance.

The figures achieved in 2017 reflect these values, which are common to the entire Company, and are also the outcome of our willingness to understand and rise to challenges as they emerge in our surroundings. We are not scared of change. Rather, change is what drives us forward and enables us to become our best selves. And 2017 was certainly a year of change. The internationalisation of our content, the founding of Atresmedia Studios, the acquisition of SmartClip and the enhancement of our diversification policy all clearly exemplify our refusal to conform or rest on our laurels, and our ability to adapt and consistently improve.

The Group's strong performance is a reflection of our superb team of professionals, the unflagging and valuable support of the Board and, of course, the confidence placed in the management team by our shareholders

2017 also saw our Group become finally and firmly established as Spain's leading news organisation. And this, again, is no mere coincidence or short-term trick. It is the outcome of a long-term commitment to a diversity of viewpoints, and quality news and reporting. Our coverage of the Catalan independence process via Antena 3 Noticias, la Sexta Noticias and the Onda Cero news unit was the go-to option for millions of people, and strengthened our bond to the real concerns of the wider community. This success shows that our strategy was the right one, even though the fruits were not borne immediately.

As a result, Atresmedia has moved to the forefront, and we can now say that we are the most influential Group. And not just through our news and current affairs programming. We also lead the pack with our entertainment and fiction content. Because influence also consists of people talking about your series or game shows in their day-to-day lives. To be influential and address the concerns closest to wider society is all part of what we want to be. This is an attribute that becomes especially significant in a changing and highly competitive environment. Our influence places us in a stronger position facing new entrants and sets us apart from more conventionally-minded operators; it will bring us quantifiable benefits in many respects. Our willingness to provide service and our commitment to the public make us part of the backbone of wider society.

Our strategy as a Group is based on content quality, professionalism, a diversity of viewpoints, and support for the industry. Our focus on these vectors of action. which cut across all our areas of activity, is the key to our success, and defines us as a benchmark for wider society.

The television division has again proved its robustness through a model that is recognised for its news programming, its entertainment and its fiction, which is endorsed by audience ratings and best able to withstand a scenario of increasing fragmentation. Among other achievements, Antena 3 ended 2017 as the unrivalled leader in the morning and weekend timeslots, while laSexta again outstripped its main competitor for the fifth year running. Our specialinterest channels, Neox, Nova, Mega and Atreseries, rounded out Atresmedia Televisión's successful offering. The television division is capable of generating prestigious and widely recognised brands; it is a veritable factory of quality content that is distributed around the world and of which we are very proud. This high quality is enabling us to prove that our strategy as a content factory is effective. In this sense, the last step in this direction has been Atresmedia Studios, a pioneer production venture for the creation, design and production of content to third parties, which already has a wide range of both Spanish and international customers.

Atresmedia Radio is still going strong, based as it is on credibility, diversity of viewpoints, entertainment and closeness to people's real concerns. The past few years have been complex for our radio division, but we are beginning to see positive results. We have the best offer on the market, even though our smaller number of broadcasting bases means that we are not competing on an equal footing. Onda Cero proved its immense strength: it was the only general-interest radio station to grow in the last two consecutive waves of the EGM audience survey, and ended 2017 with 3% growth, doubling the market average. Our superb team of professionals are determined to remain at the forefront and even surpass their own achievements: this has lent still greater strength to our radio presence. We have now been joined by Jaime Cantizano, who will work alongside leading journalists like Carlos Alsina, Juan Ramón Lucas, Julia Otero, Héctor Fernández and Javier Ruiz Taboada or Jose Ramón de la Morena among other superb journalists.

Atresmedia Publicidad effectively leveraged all the Group's resources, and again in 2017 led the advertising market, being the advertising exclusivist with the highest share in the market, of around 20% and the highest power ratios in its chosen areas. In addition, in line with the Group's overarching search for innovation, the Advertising division opened up new market niches. In this sense I would like to highlight the acquisition of Smartclip Latam, which makes Atresmedia the > leading Spanish operator in the online advertising market and bolsters its strategy in that field.

> Atresmedia Digital retained our position as the leading audiovisual group on the Internet and placed among the top ten most visited websites in Spain, according to Comscore; it raised its monthly average unique visitors to 27 million, and moved forward towards tighter integration at a time when the online world is becoming increasingly important.

> Atresmedia Diversificación, which brings together the Group's businesses not tied to conventional advertising, had great success in increasing the number of homes that subscribe to its three international channels, comfortably topping 50 million worldwide: this places us as the European private operator with the largest number of channels and subscribers overseas.

Our coverage of the Catalan independence process via Antena 3 Noticias, laSexta Noticias and the Onda Cero news unit was the go-to option for millions of people, and strengthened our bond to the real concerns of the wider community

Atresmedia Cine produced nine feature films in 2017, which accounted for 29.3% of box office takings by Spanish productions. Five of those films were produced by our Film Division - a mandatory investment which we have been able to leverage - and made it into the box office top ten.

In addition to the annual challenges we face as a Company and the circumstances of the given time in the economy, Atresmedia must address key issues in the regulatory domain. For many years, we have called upon lawmakers to support stronger stability and security in the industry. We asked for a friendlier regulatory stance towards the second digital dividend, and a specific timetable for the switchover to digital that will benefit users and industry alike. This issue will, after all, shape the future development of television in Spain. We have of course urged government bodies to deal with the regulatory challenges posed by the development of the audiovisual sector. Against a background of rapid change in the media, our Group wants to see open competition on an equal footing; the legal rules should apply to all operators equally. It is our hope that the regulatory symmetry that we are asking for – and which is surely reasonable - will enable us to serve the wider community to the best of our ability. We also ask that regulators not resign themselves to defeat in the face of difficulty. The audiovisual world evolves at breakneck speed every day, and calls into being new realities that

We are the most influential Group with our news and current affairs programming, and with our entertainment and fiction content. To be influential is part of what we want to be. This is an attribute that becomes especially significant in a changing and highly competitive environment must be regulated. An example here is child protection: we are required - and rightly so - to stay alert so as not to harm a highly vulnerable sector of the population, and yet in other media there is no oversight at all.

The key milestone in corporate responsibility this year was the design and adoption of Atresmedia's second corporate responsibility Master Plan, which will bring together all sustainability actions for the next three years. This new strategy is the outcome of a process of introspection through which Atresmedia's management team identified all the non-financial aspects that create value for our business and our main stakeholders. The mainstreaming of corporate responsibility is a path we took some time ago, but this new plan is a key turning point for the Group, because it establishes strong underpinnings for integrating responsible management with our business in a more consistent and universal way, with a focus on creating value internally and externally. In addition, the plan will enable us to respond more effectively to the new requirements and demands of the society in which we live.

One of the first results of that process of introspection is the shift in focus for the Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report which we publish today. Atresmedia has reported on its sustainability performance for more than a decade, but this is the first time that our Group publishes an integrated report setting out the relationships between strategy, governance and financial performance and the social, economic and environmental setting in which the Organisation operates. The Report addresses all the issues that bear upon our strategy and are relevant to our shareholders, customers, suppliers and other stakeholders, thus providing a comprehensive vision of everything we do. In addition to the Group's traditional community role, this new report enhances the information about key strategic issues, such as risk management and the strengthening of our Corporate Governance, which is now compliant with almost every recommendation in this field, thus making us a stronger and more reliable organisation.

Against a background of rapid change in the media, our Group wants to see open competition on an equal footing; the legal rules should apply to all operators equally. It is our hope that the regulatory symmetry that we are asking for - and which is surely reasonable - will enable us to serve the wider community to the best of our ability

As to our community role, given that we are a medium of communication, a highlight is Atresmedia's determination to place the Group's whole communicative potential at the service of wider society and its vital concerns. Compromiso Atresmedia is the conceptual umbrella that embraces all our corporate responsibility initiatives, as reflected in our media and also internally within the Company. Supporting road safety, raising awareness of healthy lifestyle choices, protecting the environment, supporting scientific research, fighting against gender violence and advocating the creation and protection of intellectual property continue to be issues to which we are firmly committed.

In 2017 we expanded the Ponle Freno races to Pontevedra, Palma de Mallorca and Las Palmas de Gran Canaria, while raising awareness of the dangers of mobile phone use while driving. In 2017, the Ponle Freno race circuit brought in more than 178,000 euros, which were allocated in full to projects in support of traffic accident victims. Asturias, Madrid and Valencia are now "heart-protected" territories thanks to the campaign on the installation and use of defibrillators carried out by Constantes y Vitales. This project also had a research aspect: Harald zur Hausen, who was awarded the Nobel Prize for his research on the influence of the papilloma virus on the onset of cancer, was a guest speaker in Madrid. The Group kept up its support for the fight against gender violence by means of its Tolerancia Cero (zero tolerance) project, encompassing campaigns on how to isolate domestic violence perpetrators and combat sexist micro-aggressions. Hazte Eco took part in a "Save the Climate" campaign by broadcasting ads calling for action against climate change. In 2017, our commitment to raising awareness in the community involved us with a range of NGOs, to which we donated free advertising campaigns to a value of more than 12 million euros. Crea Cultura continues to move forward as a leading advocate of the creation and protection of intellectual property. One of its recent projects is Crea Lectura, a new TV show on literature broadcast by laSexta.

As you can see, our contribution to society is not limited to broadcasting awareness-raising campaigns externally. We also aim to bring about real change internally within our Group. Consistency is another of the values that inspire us. Hence, in 2017 we hosted cardiopulmonary resuscitation and defibrillator courses involving more than 200 Group employees, and also held our second "Road Safety Week" to train our people in this field. We are also aware that our professionals are one of our best assets. so another of our commitments is to offer them a rewarding and highly motivating workplace. We have accordingly made progress with enhancing our people's work-life balance by introducing improvements in the collective bargaining agreement signed in 2017. We also support equality: 50.4% of our employees are now women. Moreover, we made further efforts to provide employees with quality training to enable them to rise to the new challenges we now face. But that's not all: we want to build an active dialogue and engagement with our professionals and offer them forums for sharing ideas in aid of internal innovation. This is the intention behind Project Th'nk, which became firmly established in 2017. The initiative is designed to encourage Atresmedia employees to come together in a space of inspiration, communication and teamwork and bring out their intrapreneurial spirit.

This is the first time that our Group publishes an integrated report setting out the relationships between strategy. governance and financial performance and the social, economic and environmental setting in which the organisation operates

Of course, I cannot fail to mention the dedicated engagement of Group employees who took part in the Corporate Volunteering Programme, which has now been in place for a decade. The programme has involved the donation of more than 2,300 hours of employees' time to charity work, including helping out at food kitchens for the homeless, providing support to the elderly and the disabled, and helping to train unemployed young people.

That same spirit of improvement and active engagement in these fields of sustainability drove Atresmedia to join the Fundación SERES, which supports companies' commitment to playing a role in the community, and the Forética Environment Cluster, a leading corporate responsibility forum, which Atresmedia joined last year as the first media member. This is the second focus group we join after the transparency, good governance and integrity cluster. These moves exemplify the significance we attach to the values of community commitment, sustainability and integrity.

Through the Fundación Atresmedia we continued to channel charitable aid from the Group for child protection, better education, and integration of people with disabilities. Milestones included the "Great Teachers" event, which drew record attendance this year, or the celebration of the Hospitalized Child Day; the campaign undertaken in partnership with the Fundación Randstad to raise awareness of the need to integrate people with disabilities, and support for occupational training.

I should like to mention some of the accolades that the company achieved in 2017. For the second year running, the Rep Trak España 2017 research survey rated us as the audiovisual group with the strongest reputation. The rating is based on consumer opinions on our financial strength, capability for innovation, leadership and offered range of entertainment and news. I should also mention that the 2017 Randstad Employer Branding report placed us as the best place to work in the communication sector.

In addition, one of our latest successes is Atresmedia Formación, where we provide quality training to enable the future professionals of the audiovisual and communications sector to rise

We have supported road safety, raised awareness of healthy lifestyle choices, protected the environment, supported scientific research, fought against gender violence and advocated the creation and protection of intellectual property: these continue to be issues to which we are firmly committed

The Fundación Atresmedia continues to channel the Group's community support for child protection, better education and the integration of people with disabilities, with milestones such as the "Great Teachers" award ceremony, which drew record beating attendance to the new challenges we now face. One year after the launch of this new division, which provides training courses on topics relating to television, radio, film, communications and IT, we can confidently say that we are on track to become the leading benchmark in Spain. We have a catalogue of 400 courses and have entered into partnerships with a range of prestigious Spanish and international institutions.

I would like to conclude this message with a reminder that 2017 was by no means an easy year. In fact, it was a tough time, and we have had to bring out the best in us to deliver a strong performance. We are confident that we can perform just as strongly in 2018. At the Group, we have a leading model that adapts swiftly to change, and our commitment to quality has proved to be the right call. We face new challenges every day. But I am fully confident that, whatever the challenge may be, we shall rise to it, because it's in our DNA..

2. MESSAGE FROM THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

2017 has been a tough year, but in the end we put in a very strong performance. Admittedly, the advertising market did not behave as expected, and new consumption patterns, coupled with the ongoing influx of new operators, compel us to redouble our efforts to compete from our leadership position for our audiences' leisure time. But it is equally true that Atresmedia ended the year with record revenue and higher profits than the previous year.

We have had to face many challenges and uncertainty continues to prevail over certainty: and yet we are aware of our strengths, which are considerable. One of those strengths is our Organisation's ability to embrace change, rather than remain paralysed by the fear of change. In 2017, our Company proved that it is a highly dynamic market player. We successfully opened up new lines of business and reinforced and adapted existing divisions with innovative new

In 2017 we proved that ours is a highly dynamic Company by opening up new lines of business and strengthening existing ones measures. Moreover, our way of doing business, which is recognised by and recognisable to our stakeholders, is still the best possible defence in the face of a swiftly changing media landscape.

We were the first to understand – and to understand more accurately than our competitors – that the focus of our business must be our content. We proved able to break resistance to change so as to become Spain's leading content factory. We create quality brands, brought into being by the best professionals and bringing together both prestige and audience ratings. The useful life of our content goes beyond conventional linear broadcasting, and includes third parties in the value chain. The emergence of Atresmedia Studios, which was founded to create, design and produce for other operators, is therefore the natural consequence of a horizontal strategy that cuts across the Company and places us at the forefront of the industry. That same strategy has enabled us to acquire 50 million subscriber households around the world via our international channels and to become a leading player in the main markets with our fiction series.

And, on the strength of our high-quality offering and our consistent commitment to always provide the best product, even in the awareness that results might not be immediately forthcoming, in 2017 Atresmedia tasted success in its news and current affairs programming, and thus enhanced its influence in wider society. To be influential and become a benchmark source of news on the topics that the public is genuinely concerned with is a wonderfully valuable attribute that sets us apart from new operators and buttresses our leadership position. The plural and diverse nature of our Group, our professionalism, our ability to respond swiftly and our consistent willingness to serve the public, unsullied by short-term tactics or gimmicks, clearly shone forth last year, which was a period laden with crucial events. Atresmedia Radio and Atresmedia Televisión led their respective fields in meeting the needs of society, making our brand an undisputed benchmark for news and current affairs.

Another factor in our excellent performance in 2017 was our ongoing commitment to innovation. Innovation runs through each and every one of our activities, and springs directly from our refusal to conform or to rest on our laurels. In addition to Atresmedia Studios - which in record time closed crucial deals, soon to be followed by still more the Company set in motion a start-up incubator in partnership with Boomerang to create new entertainment formats. In the radio division, despite the maturity and robustly entrenched nature of the market, we continue to tweak our offering to further enhance what we believe is already the best proposal out there. Our offering is at the forefront of 21st-century radio in terms of both content and broadcasting technology. In the online division, we beefed up our position by acquiring Smartclip Latam, while we continue to optimise our multiplatform distribution policy with product and functionality improvements.

We were the first to undestand that the focus of our business must be our content. We proved able to break resistance to change so as to become Spain's leading content factory

All these factors enabled us to raise revenue by 3.0% in the year, to 1.05 billion euros. As I said earlier, this is the highest revenue figure in the Company's entire history. Our management model seeks out the highest standards of effectiveness and profitability. We achieved EBITDA of 202.1 million euros, with an EBITDA margin of 19.2%, and net profit of 142.1 million euros, 10.0% more than in 2016. A key factors in achieving these figures was the strong performance of our commercial division, Atresmedia Publicidad. Our advertising people have shown our clients that we provide the best setting for communications about their products. Their excellent work is reflected in our power ratio - market share to viewership share - which at 1.6 is the highest of any television advertising marketer. Following our philosophy of customer focus, innovation, effectiveness and profitability, Atresmedia was again the leading multimedia advertising marketer in Spain, with a 19% share of the total spend in conventional media.

Atresmedia Televisión has strengthened the lead of its television model. Atresmedia's television division is still living proof that quality, innovative and broadly based television is appreciated and rewarded by the general public. High viewership is compatible with prestige: we have become one of the game-changers in Spain's audiovisual industry, as against other operators who merely farm out their licences. Atresmedia Televisión's six channels proved the strongest in withstanding the onrush of fragmentation and the shift in consumption trends, thus reaffirming the success of their model and their commercial appeal.

I would like to highlight that, propelled by its two flagship channels, Antena 3 and laSexta, Atresmedia Televisión ended 2017 with an audience share of 26.6%, and in leading the commercial target audience —we are the most highly valued showcase for advertisers in the

Atresmedia Televisión reinforced the leadership of its television model, based on high quality, a diversity of viewpoints and innovation: all six of its channels reaffirmed their success and market strength, and received the applause of the public two main day parts, prime-time and early fringe. The year has been intense from a news standpoint, the Catalan independence process being an especially hot issue. These events were covered by a major media deployment that was rewarded by growth in news and current affairs programmes. Antena 3 news programmes were the only private television offering to grow, achieving an average rating of 12.6% across all editions, while laSexta news achieved the second best rating result of its history, at 9.9%. Espejo público reached a new annual high with a share of 17.7%, while Al rojo vivo, with 12.3%. cemented its leadership as the news programme with the biggest following in its time slot. These figures show that our strategic bid to provide high-quality news and current affairs content was the right move.

Antena 3, which finished the year with an average audience share of 12.3%, was the preferred channel for the commercial viewership in prime time (13.9%). It ended the year as the absolute leader in audience share for morning shows (12.9%) and weekend programming (11.4%). In addition, it achieved the year's mostviewed broadcast, most-viewed series, most-viewed film and most-viewed programme. laSexta, for its part, ended 2017 in a strengthened position as the third-biggest private TV channel by audience share at 6.8%, and for the fifth year running it again outstripped its direct competitor, this time by the largest difference ever recorded between the two channels (+0.6). laSexta also took the lead in commercial target (7.4%), and widened its edge in the prime-time slot (7.1%).

Our four new-generation special-interest channels continued to reinforce their successful programming ranges, taking the lead in their respective targets. Neox, with 2.5%, retained its 2016 share and its place as the second most widely viewed special-interest channel. Nova, with 2.2%, also retained last year's share and was the leading women's special-interest channel in the commercial time slot. The men's special-interest channel Mega, for its part, held onto its share of 1.8%. Atreseries, our youngest HD channel, has been positioned since its launch as the leading new concession special-interest channel, and increased its average audience share to 1.1% -HD televisions are still not as widespread as conventional devices.

Atresmedia Radio continued to reinforce its range of voices and promoted internal talent, ending 2017 with four million listeners. Onda Cero increased its audience share yet again, achieving two million listeners and proving that we have made the right decisions

In 2017 Atresmedia Radio continued to reinforce its radio programming, based on diversity, professionalism and quality throughout the day. We announced that Jaime Cantizano will be joining the weekend morning show at Onda Cero. As a result, our radio division attracted four million listeners across our three stations. We continue to work every day to make the most of our potential. This includes internal talent promotion thanks to our amazing team of professionals, who, like Carlos Alsina and Juan Ramón Lucas, attract increased audiences every season, thus proving that we make the right choices. The Group's general-interest station, Onda Cero, increased its audience to two million listeners and retained its position as the third-largest broadcaster in its segment. The Estudio General de Medios (EGM, Spain's leading audience measurement survey) showed that Onda Cero was the only general-interest radio station to grow in the past two consecutive survey waves and ended 2017 with growth of 3%, twice the rate seen in the wider market. This is the outcome of a firmly established brand name and an attractive programming offer. Europa FM and Melodía FM held onto their strong positions, the former as a leading pop music station with 1.8 million listeners and the second growing to an audience of 300,000 and equalling its second-best ever figure.

Atresmedia was again the leading audiovisual group on the Internet in 2017, a place it has held since 2015. The Group's online division ended the year with an average of 27 million unique users a month, 12% more than in 2016, and placed among the top 10 most visited properties in Spain according to Comscore. Atresplayer, our main non-linear content distribution window, attracted more than 4.2 million users, thus living up to its key role in the Company's multiplatform strategy. That role will be reinforced in 2018 with a key update.

Atresmedia further cemented our position as the leading audiovisual group on the Internet, placing among the top ten most visited properties in Spain, according to Comscore

Atresmedia Diversificación continued to seek new avenues for growth that are not dependent on the conventional advertising market. With our three international channels - Antena 3 Internacional, Atreseries and iHOLA! TV, joined in 2018 by AtresCine - we have retained our foothold as the private European operator with the most channels and subscribers overseas: over 50 million households subscribe to us. Moreover, in 2017 we continued to support entrepreneurship through our "Media for Equity" model for investing in start-ups, which we financed to a value of more than 80 million euros. With 10 investee companies, Atresmedia is already a relevant player in the venture capital sector in Spain.

Our film division, Atresmedia Cine, became Spain's leading film production firm. We released nine titles in 2017, and accounted for 30% of box office takings by Spanish films over the year. The law places us under a duty to take part in Spanish film production by means of a minimum "investment share". Although we are uncomfortable with the fact that this duty is an imposition, we also view it as an opportunity to open up a new business pathway that cleaves to the standards of quality which the Group practises across all its divisions.

Atresmedia's four international channels -Antena 3 Internacional, 'iHOLA! TV. Atreseries and Atrescine buttressed our position as the European private operator with the most channels and the largest number of subscribers: 50 million connected households

One of the Group's business activities, Atresmedia Formación, created to train the future professionals of audiovisual media, has successfully integrated its concern for education with financial viability, by means of a training catalogue of more than 400 courses that are recognised both in Spain and overseas.

For yet another year, Atresmedia has delivered on its commitment to responsible business practices and support for positive change in wider society. In 2017, therefore, the Company adopted its second corporate responsibility master plan, which will provide a structure for all actions in this domain for the next three years, enabling us to continue to mainstream corporate responsibility activities throughout all the Company's strategic areas and corporate culture.

One of the factors identified in the Master Plan is our Company's contribution to and impact on the wider community, as part of our Organisation's commitment of the past decade. Throughout 2017 we reinforced the Compromiso Atresmedia, the initiative that brings together all the Group's corporate responsibility campaigns (Ponle Freno, Objetivo Bienestar, Constantes y Vitales, Hazte Eco, Crea Cultura and Tolerancia Cero): our range of actions go beyond merely raising awareness and achieve real changes in society.

Our outward-facing efforts are reflected internally among Atresmedia's employees, through our initiatives to train our people in road safety and healthy lifestyle choices. In addition, our professionals have dedicated some of their time to working with charities and NGOs through the Corporate Volunteering Programme, which in 2017 completed its first decade, and to Project Th'nk, which supports Group employees' entrepreneurial ideas: its first year of activity involved a number of initiatives to encourage innovation within the firm.

Fundación Atresmedia continued to provide support to hospitalised children, help teach people with disabilities about the audiovisual industry so they can find work, and champion major initiatives for better education, such as 'Great Teachers' and 'Discover Vocational Training'. In 2017, for the sixth year in a row, it led the corporate foundation transparency

Our Group is continuosly betting for a more responsible business management and for a strong support to a positive change in the society. That is why in 2017 we reinforced all the Organisation's corportate responsibility activities through the initiative Compromiso Atresmedia

Alongside its work for the broader community, the Group has focused on the environment and sustainability, increasing investment in this respect and cutting down on the emissions from our premises. The Group also joined the Environment Cluster hosted by Forética, the leading corporate responsibility forum in Spain.

I would also like to highlight the #companies4SDG campaign, which raises awareness of and calls for action on the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, to which Atresmedia is strongly committed

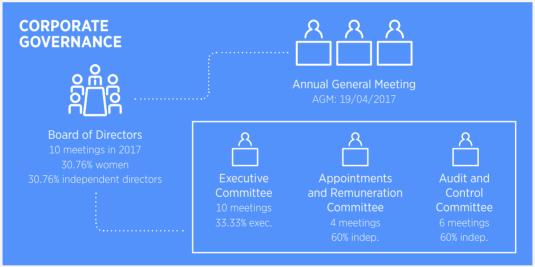

So 2017, despite difficulties and challenges, was an excellent year for the achievement of our aims. It wasn't easy, but yet again we outperformed the goals we had set ourselves. We are still a leading company in terms of both business and our role in the community, thanks to our strategy and our diverse, high-quality model. Our understanding of the business leads to tangible results, and is perceived positively by the market and society as a whole. We have a clear strategy and are not scared of change. For us, 2017 now lies in the past. Our Organisation will continue to be put to the test throughout 2018. But I am confident that, with our professionals and the support of the Board and shareholders, we shall again achieve all our goals.

2017 ACTIVITIES

Atresmedia Televisión

Atresmedia TV remained the first choice for news coverage in 2017, ending the year with an audience of 26.6% and leading the way in prime time and afternoon viewing.

Antena 3 and laSexta were, for the fourth straight year, the favourite channels of Spanish viewers and had the best rated hosts: Atresmedia had 11 of the 15 highest rated presenters and opinion leaders, according to the TV Perception Study released by Personality Media. It was also viewed by the public as the most reputable and trustworthy audiovisual media group, according to the RepTrak España 2017 Studio prepared by consulting firm Reputation Institute.

The Series Atresmedia brand once again showed its credentials when it comes to Spanish fiction, earning critical praise and proving hugely popular among audiences. Moreover, shored up its international reach, with hits like 'La casa de papel', the most widely acclaimed series abroad in the history of Spanish TV.

Atresmedia TV (19,5%), Antena 3 (11.6%) and Nova (2.9%) were the group, the channel and the thematic channel leaders in non linear audience in 2017.

Antena 3

Antena 3 leads the commercial target audience in the mornings and at weekends, reporting the year's most viewed broadcast, series, premières and daily programme, with an average audience of 12.3% in 2017.

Antena 3 Noticias was the only privatelyowned news programme to report gains.

Its afternoon slot from Monday to Sunday was the leading news programme among the commercial offerings.

laSexta

laSexta again topped the rankings, 6.8% clear of its nearest rival for the fifth straight year and managing to extend the gap between the two by a record +0.6 during the year. It beat its rival in the daytime, afternoon, evening, prime time and commercial audience segments.

It has cemented is status as a leading news and current affairs channel: in October it reported its highest ever monthly share (9.1%) and its best daily performance (17.5%) thanks to its special episode of Al rojo vivo: El Objetivo, which earned 28.1%.

Neox

Youth channel Neox (2.5%) reported its best ever afternoon figures (2.5%), while also matching its best ever prime time showing (2.6%).

Nova

Nova (2.2%) was again the leading female lifestyle channel in the 09:00-02:30 slot and in prime time (2.1%), matching its performance in 2016.

Mega

Mega was the leading channel for male audiences in 2017, equalling its best ever yearly result (1,8%). Meanwhile, El chiringuito de Jugones recorded its best year since its first aired (4.6% and 245,000 viewers).

Atreseries

Atreseries, with a 1.1% share, reported its best ever performance and was the leading new specialty channel.

ACTIVIDAD 2017

Atresmedia Radio

With some 4 million listeners, Atresmedia Radio is widely known for its integrity, pluralistic and down-to-earth approach and entertainment value.

Onda Cero

Only generalist station to have grown in the last two phases of the EGM survey, with close to two million listeners.

Europa fm

Leading music station with 1.8 million listeners, Europa FM has now added David Guetta to its roster, one of the world's most influential DJs.

Melodía fm

With its fresh approach to music, the station matched its second best figures with over 300,000 listeners.

Atresmedia Publicidad

Atresmedia Publicidad became once again the advertising exclusivist with the highest share of the market, around 20%, boasting the highest power ratios across all its markets.

The acquisition of Smartclip Latam has made Atresmedia the leading domestic operator in the digital advertising market by strengthening its grip of the market.

Atresmedia Diversificación

Atresmedia Internacional consolidated its position as the private European operator with the most channels and subscribers outside Spain, with over 50 million paying households using its three channels.

Atresmedia Studios

Atresmedia Studios was created as a pioneering project to leverage the Group's brand name and prestige in fiction, adapting to new consumption patterns among viewers thanks to production for new platforms.

Atresmedia Digital

Atresmedia's websites reported a monthly average of 27.1 million unique visitor users in 2017 (+12% on 2016).

According to Comscore, Atresmedia ranks within the top 10 most visited names in Spain, reflecting its status as a leading online audiovisual group.

Atresplayer reported more than 4.2 million users, cementing its status as a premium video platform in 2017.

Atresmedia Cine

Atresmedia became the leading film production company by releasing a number of new films, five of which ranked within the top ten in box office sales.

Atresmedia's contribution to stakeholders

In 2017, Atresmedia showed its commitment to corporate social responsibility by approving its new 2018-2020 Master Plan, which will tie in closely with how the Company is managed and run and shape its relations with stakeholders.

5. WHAT DO WE DO?

5.1. Our business environment

In 2017 the macroeconomic environment in which Atresmedia operates was favourable: GDP grew 3.1% according to FUNCAS data, and growth is expected to hold up in 2018 at a rate of 2.6%. Although the economy is now on a firmly established trend of recovery, in 2017 the European advertising market grew by only 0.03%. This was largely because leading consumer goods companies – which historically are advertising-intensive – cut their marketing budgets across the board. However, free-to-air television in Spain benefited from an increase in advertising spend of 1% with respect to 2016, reaching 1.93 billion euros<sup>1</sup>.

Consumption patterns across global society are changing at a dizzying rate, trending towards increased consumption on platforms that provide an alternative to conventional television as we know it. OTT platforms, which send content to a range of different devices over the Internet, herald non-linear television consumption, especially among younger audiences. Yet, despite the rise of new platforms, there is still a wide gap between them and linear television consumption: out of the average 4 hours and 25 minutes of audiovisual content that a person consumes (online video, OTT platforms and linear television), 85% of that time is devoted to linear television.

Given this, we need to think about how technological development is providing the audiovisual industry with a key edge. First, technology opens up a new online channel for content distribution where – alongside many other active platforms – Atresmedia is playing a central role. Secondly, technology supports direct communication with the viewer and getting to know their expectations, which lets us personalise content and advertising.

To rise to the challenge of the technological revolution, the media need to develop the capabilities required to bolster their business. In 2017, Atresmedia acquired Spain's largest online video advertising marketer. We are now developing a Big Data project and working on a new version of Atresplayer, Atresmedia's OTT platform.

Atresmedia operates within an industry that is regulated by the European Union and Spanish legislation. In the regulatory domain, after years of consolidation of the structure of the television market, in 2017 a certain measure of stability has been achieved. One of the challenges to be addressed in future is the allocation of the radio spectrum for television broadcasting. The main laws and regulations affecting Atresmedia's business are those relating to the radio spectrum, audiovisual media services, intellectual property, and arrangements for payment of royalties to copyright collecting societies. These laws and regulations have undergone the following changes:

| Radio spectrum regulations  | In 2017 there was adopted Decision (EU) 2017/899 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 17 May 2017 on the use of the 470-790 MHz frequency band in the Union. This Decision sets the terms for freeing up the 700 MHz frequency band currently used for broadcasting by a range of TDT channels, not later than 30 June 2020.   |  |
|---|--|--|
| Audiovisual media services regulations                                  | The European Commission, the European Parliament and the Council are in negotiations to amend Directive 2010/13/EU, the Audiovisual Media Services Directive, which sets a range of rights, obligations and limits as to advertising, child protection and investment obligations in the course of provision of audiovisual media services. Once the final text is passed in 2018, Spanish law must be adapted to the technological development of audiovisual media operation, video distribution platforms and social media by lending flexibility to some of the current constraints and balancing the rules on the various modes of operation. |  |
| Intellectual property law   | Spain's Ministry of Education, Culture and Sport is promoting an amendment to the Ley de Propiedad Intelectual , Spain's intellectual property statute, to implement Directive 2014/26/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 Februa 2014 on collective management of copyright and related rights and multi-territorial licensing of rights in musical works for onlir use in the internal market, and Directive 2017/1564/EU.   |  |
| Arrangements for payment of royalties to copyright collecting societies | Effective June 2016 onwards, collecting societies set new general royalty tariffs in accordance with the legislation passed in 2014 and 2015. Atresmedia is negotiating intensively with all the collecting societies to sign agreements that accommodate the new situation in relation to the Group's radio, television and online businesses.  |  |

Future opportunities

Atresmedia dedicates effort and resources to observing and taking part in industry trends and seeking ways to meet the new requirements of advertisers and audiences.

We see a future landscape with three key features, which Atresmedia is already preparing for:

Growing demand for content shown by distributors

Atresmedia firmly believes that its ability to generate content provides a huge opportunity for progress and growth in two areas: offering own content on pay platforms and producing content for third parties that broadcast through OTT services.

Success story: launch of Atresmedia Studios, a production company offering new content while broadcasting existing shows to satisfy a growing appetite for series among Spanish and foreign viewers.

Globalisation of consumption of entertainment

The internationalisation of Atresmedia is now very much a reality. which stands the Group in good stead as it moves forward.

Success story: more than 50 million paving subscribers outside Spain

Applying technology to the audiovisual business

Atresmedia aims to improve the way it distributes content and expand the knowledge of its audience through available technologies. This has led to an enhanced experience among viewers while making content advertising that much more efficient.

Success story: Big Data project, acquisition of Smartclip Latam and agreements with Smartclip AG

5.2 Material issues

To produce this Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report, Atresmedia undertook a materiality analysis involving all of the Group's internal and external stakeholders. This new analysis updates the research conducted by the Group in previous years and identifies the key issues which the Company's strategy must hinge upon.

5.2.1. Materiality analysis overview (GRI 102-43)

The materiality matrix underpinning the content of this report was constructed in two stages:

Qualitative phase

Atresmedia has analysed the state of the media sector by examining sector-wide reports, future trends, and information on peers. These initial steps are intended to flag relevant issues that are already affecting the sector in which Atresmedia operates, or that might do so in future.

Quantitative phase

These relevant issues are then ranked and prioritised accordingly, based on their impact on the specific business activities of Atresmedia. This phase had two component parts:

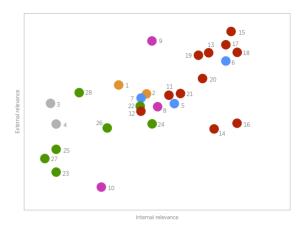

- Internal: the heads of the key areas and departments of Atresmedia were asked to complete a questionnaire on the relevance of the matters detected during the initial phase.
- External: all of Atresmedia's external stakeholders were asked to complete a questionnaire on the relevance of the matters detected during the initial phase.

We analysed documents produced by 15 gatekeepers (industry company reports) and processed 62 questionnaire responses from internal stakeholders (executives and employees) and external stakeholders (suppliers, financial community, academic community, etc).

5.2.2. Materiality matrix (GRI 102-47)

The outcome of the process was the identification of 28 material issues for Atresmedia listed in order of significance. Based on those issues, we produced this report, and the Group will undertake its sustainability activities in the coming years.

The matrix shows that for both internal and external stakeholders the most significant issues are mainly clustered in the category "Content production and distribution". Atresmedia regards as significant any issue rated significant by more than 70% of both groups.

5.3. Business model and strategy

Through its television, radio and online divisions, Atresmedia produces and distributes content that attracts an audience and thus generates advertising airtime marketed by Atresmedia Publicidad among advertisers, who are the Group's main source of revenue. In addition, Atresmedia is involved in businesses that are not solely dependent on conventional advertising through Atresmedia Diversificación, which encompasses copyright management, our international business, and the Group's involvement in the venture capital industry. Lastly, Atresmedia complies with its statutory obligations under the Spanish Audiovisual Act, Ley General Audiovisual, through its producer, Atresmedia Cine.

> Atresmedia is the audiovisual group with the strongest reputation according to Estudio RepTrak España 2017, a research paper published by the consultancy firm Reputation Institute.

5.3.1. Strategy and description of priorities

In 2015, in partnership with all the Atresmedia business areas, the Strategy Department designed a corporate Strategic Plan for 2017, based on a set of strategic priorities and goals that are to be assessed and updated annually.

In this section we discuss Atresmedia's strategic priorities and the Group's goals, and the KPIs that help us evaluate the extent to which we achieve them. Throughout this report we insert references to our goals when describing the initiatives now in motion that help us to achieve them.

5.3.2. Activity overview

5.3.2.1. Television

Atresmedia Televisión's vision is to provide a diverse, innovative and high-quality range of news and entertainment which, by becoming our viewers' first choice, will offer the value that advertisers want. To achieve this goal, Atresmedia designs its programming in keeping with the values of quality, innovation and diversity of viewpoints.

Atresmedia Televisión accounts for 87% (89% in 2016) of the Group's overall revenue (chiefly from advertising), and operates six different channels): the general-interest channels Antena 3 and laSexta; and the special-interest channels Neox (children), Nova (women), Mega (men) and Atreseries (fiction series).

Atresmedia Televisión's activities are based on a range of principles that guide both content production and broadcasting:

WHAT DOES ATRESMEDIA'S TELEVISION PROGRAMMING HAVE TO ACHIEVE? HOW DOES IT ACHIEVE IT? Atresmedia operates a range of internal mechanisms that monitor the quality, ethics and responsibility of the content we produce and Design content that broadcast. (Further information at Quality and Ethics management). responds to community Atresmedia, in partnership with leading research institutions in the interests and ensure that industry, conducts research so as to keep its television offering close to content is interesting and societal concerns and address the topics that are most relevant to the high-quality community. (Further information at Corporate social responsibility). In 2017, we formed 70 focus groups, involving 560 people. Protect vulnerable Atresmedia ensures that children are protected by complying with prevailing laws and regulations and implementing specific selfaudiences, especially children regulation mechanisms. (Further information at Child protection). One of Atresmedia's priorities is to enhance and facilitate access to Promote audiovisual audiovisual content by everyone, regardless of their hearing or visual content accessibility capabilities (Further information at Accessibility). Atresmedia is aware of the media's influence on public opinion, and therefore carries out a range of community activities to enhance familiarity with how the industry works. Moreover, Atresmedia knows Bring the media close to that as a communication group it plays a privileged role in raising community concerns awareness and providing content with an impact on the community; we believe this is part of our contribution to society. (Further information at Awareness campaigns).

Audience shares in 2017

In 2017, Atresmedia continued to deploy a television model that focuses on six distinct approaches, and we again placed as the leading communications group in prime-time in commercial target, the most attractive slot for advertisers. Antena 3, laSexta and the thematic channels' offer is proving the best at withstanding a scenario of increasing atomisation and ever more widespread use of new forms of audiovisual consumption.

> Audience perception surveys show that Atresmedia Televisión projects an image of being the most diverse group in terms of content and styles as a result of the Group's bid to preserve the independence and viewpoint diversity of its different channels.

in the lead (13.3% in viewership share of 12.3%: it is the unbeaten leader in the morning (12.9%) and weekend (11.4%) in 2017 in all the genres having scored the mostviewed broadcast, series, film and daily programme

Atresmedia's presenters were again the highest rated: 11 out of 15 of the highest-rated influencers belonged to the Atresmedia Group.

Milestones in 2017

O 1.: Appealing content

O 3.: Ensuring that TV remains the chosen environment for brands

Benchmark in news and current affairs: viewing figures for news programmes and the Group's extensive coverage of major events have made Atresmedia a firm audience favourite when keeping up with the latest news through Antena 3 Noticias (only private news outlet to have reported growth), as well as laSexta Noticias (achieved its second best ever showing, 9.9%) and has now been outpacing channel Cuatro for six straight years) and current affairs programmes.

Entertainment: Antena 3 continues to broadcast the most viewed daily programme on television, namely El hormiquero 3.0, and continues succeeding with entertainment shows such as Tu cara me suena and Tu cara no me suena todavía, which was the most watched premiere of the year. Meanwhile, laSexta has diversified its content by adding new products that will continue throughout 2018: La isla and Dónde estabas entonces.

Leading the way in fiction: the Series Atresmedia brand has confirmed its leading status when it comes to Spanish fiction, earning considerable critical and public acclaim through successful comedy series Allí Abajo and other releases, all of which have been warmly received by the public. La casa de papel, an original fiction of impeccable workmanship became the year's most successful première, with 4,090,000 viewers tuning in (25.1%). As well as on prime time, fiction series are generally well positioned within the afternoon and evening slot with Amar es para Siempre, leader in the afternoon, and El secreto de Puente Viejo that has aired the most episodes in the history of Spanish television when it comes to fictional series, with 1.4 million spectators and a 14.4% market share. Foreign fiction shows broadcast by Atresmedia attracts the biggest viewing audiences in Spain and its container Multicine remains the undisputed leader for weekend afternoon viewing.

- O 1.: Appealing content
- O 3.: Ensuring that TV remains the chosen environment for brands

Effectiveness and synergy of content: Atresmedia's second generation channels have once again been hugely effective and synergistic in what is becoming an increasingly fragmented market. All of them have been leaders of their segments.

Interest in Sports: The broadcasting of the Champions League was an absolute success in terms of audience share and reached its highest level, 46.1%, in the extra time of the Real Madrid - Bayern football match. Other sports programmes achieved great results such as El Chiringuito de Jugones, that reached 4,6% audience share in Mega.

O 5.: Maximising content value through distribution

O 8.: Global own content business

Diversifying target audiences and genres (premières): the Company's two generalist channels have been showing new content and subject matter in a bid to reach a broader base of the population.

Atreseries (1.1%): Leading new special-interest channel

According to the latest TV image survey conducted by Personality Media, Antena 3 and laSexta were the Spanish public's favourite channels. The survey analyses 11 categories, and one or another of Atresmedia Televisión's flagship channels has the lead in eight of those categories.

5322 Radio

The vision pursued by Atresmedia Radio and its brands (Onda Cero, Europa FM and Melodía FM) is to broadcast a wide range of content that will earn them recognition as the benchmarks for credibility, viewpoint diversity, entertainment and closeness to the expectations and concerns of the public.

Given this focus, Atresmedia Radio's range of products ended 2017 with a combined audience of four million listeners. Onda Cero is Spain's third-largest general-interest station, with 2 million listeners, and is the only channel that grows in the two last consecutive EGM, finishing 2017 with a 3% increase (double than the Market), while Europa FM attracts 1.8 million listeners, being the forth ranked station in terms of audience share in a higly fragmented music radio landscape. Melodía FM has 300,000 followers.

WHAT DOES ATRESMEDIA'S RADIO PROGRAMMING HAVE TO ACHIEVE?

HOW DOES IT ACHIEVE IT?

Innovate to offer our listeners fresh and attractive programming

In 2017 Atresmedia Radio continued the process of renewing its programming schedules to adapt to listeners' new demands and offer innovative and flexible radio shows that are sensitive to societal change. A highlight was the highly intensive news coverage effort undertaken in 2017 by Atresmedia Radio News programmes to address key developments arising in a particularly eventful year. These actions focused on broadcasting special news features on location from the specific stage of each event.

Assuring independence, viewpoint diversity and credibility

Atresmedia's radio stations strive for viewpoint diversity and a range of different approaches in their programming, thus earning recognition as independent and credible news outlets. To achieve this Atresmedia Radio works every year to sign up leading presenters and commentators to the roster of professionals: José Ramón de la Morena, Carlos Alsina, Juan Ramón Lucas, Julia Otero, David del Cura, Javier Ruiz Taboada, Javier Cárdenas, Jaime Cantizano, Elena Gijón, Juan Diego Guerrero, Héctor Fernández, Bruno Cardeñosa, Silvia Casasola, Juanma Romero, Bartolomé Beltrán, José Luis Salas, Esther Eiros, Rocío Santos, Frank Blanco, Carlos Rodríguez, Soledad de Juan, Pablo Rodríguez, Wally López, Brian Cross, Mar Montoro, Sara Gil, Pablo Guerola, Juanma Ortega, and more.

| Preserving the bestof conventionalradio: closeness tothe audience andengagement | As the Group's general-interest station, Onda Cero continues to provide news and information at a level close to the audience. It manages an important network of broadcasters that connect local businesses and institutions to listeners through highly attractive formats that bear a strongly local imprint.  |
| Adapting to the new features of the radio medium in the 20 first century                        | Atresmedia is aware that the multiplatform era poses a tough challenge to its radio division. To rise to the challenge and grasp the opportunities that will emerge in its wake, Atresmedia is renovating its radio headquarters to equip them with the technology that will build 21st-century radio. As a result of these innovations, video content can now be produced alongside radio broadcasting. Radio thus becomes a multiplatform medium that can be distributed over the Group's range of different platforms and thus improve content distribution. |
| Support the community commitments acquired by the Group   | The Atresmedia Group remains determined to deliver on its commitments to the community, both through the set of initiatives within the Atresmedia Commitment and through partnerships with advertisers, shows and platforms. Throughout 2017, Atresmedia Radio dedicated airtime to broadcast community-related content, especially the Group's CR activities. (Further information at Corporate social responsibility).  |

Onda Cero, Spain's third-largest conventional radio outlet, was the only general-interest station to grow in the last two consecutive waves of the EGM audience survey, and ended 2017 with 3% growth, doubling the market average.

One of the biggest milestones of 2017 for Atresmedia Radio was the deal signed with Unidad Editorial. The purpose of the agreement is to reinforce the respective sports coverage of the two groups and create further synergies between their editorial staffs. Under the terms of the alliance, José Ramón de la Morena's El transistor show will be broadcast on all stations bearing the Radio Marca brand.

In addition, towards the end of the year we officially announced that Jaime Cantizano would be joining Onda Cero's weekend morning programming.

Other programme scheduling changes that we introduced to adapt to audience demand were extended airtime for Julia en la onda, headed up by Julia Otero, which is now broadcast from 15.00 to 19.00, and Héctor Fernández's joining Javier Ruiz Taboada to present Radioestadio.

> Europa FM comfortably won the fourth position of the audience share ranking in an increasingly atomised music radio landscape.

5.3.2.3. Advertising

Atresmedia Publicidad is the marketer of the Atresmedia Group's advertising airtime, and the leading company among its peers in Spain across all distribution media: television, radio and online. Its vision is to analyse and identify customers' needs, offer them the best advertising placement and make their communication plans more effective on Atresmedia than with competitors. Atresmedia Publicidad has become again the exclusivist with the highest stake in the advertising market, with an share of around 20%; as well as the highest power ratios of the markets in which operates. Moreover, Atresmedia acquired Smartclip Latam, so it has become the leader group in the Spanish digital advertising market.

| WHAT DOESATRESMEDIA HAVETO DO AS ANAIRTIME MARKETER?                               | HOW DOES IT ACHIEVE IT?   |
| Promote transparency,effectiveness andinnovation in marketingcommunications        | Innovation and effectiveness are the mainstays of Atresmedia Publicidad. We are committed to continue to research advertising effectiveness so as to offer the best possible service to agencies and advertisers. The Group's innovation focuses on two areas: creating new advertising formats and enhancing the product offered to brands. (Further information at Effectiveness and Profitability ). |
| Advocate for self-regulation of the industryto protect consumer andcustomer rights | Even since it was first established, Atresmedia Publicidad has followed robust principles of business ethics based on responsible management of advertising and marketing communications, as set out in its Responsible Advertising Policy and its four lines of action: innovation, quality, self-regulation and commitment to the community.  |
| Enhance the effectiveness of quality controls  | All Atresmedia's advertising content is subject to strict quality control before airing so as to go beyond mere regulatory compliance and ensure that all the requirements voluntarily assumed by the Group in its self-regulation codes are also satisfied. (Further information at Responsible advertising>Quality management).   |
| Support community commitment in partnership with advertisers                                   | Atresmedia Publicidad seeks out advertisers whose communication needs tie in with the Group's own corporate responsibility activities so that both the advertiser and Atresmedia benefit from partnering in the resulting communication campaigns. (Further information at Corporate social responsibility> Our advertisers' community commitment)  |

Self-regulation

Atresmedia is concerned to practise an ethical form of marketing communication and to protect the rights of the public - children in particular (for further information about child protection initiatives, go to Child protection). The Group remains firm in its commitment to responsible advertising and audiovisual content by subscribing voluntarily to a wide range of codes of ethics and conduct that go beyond strict regulatory compliance and form the basis of our advocacy for self-regulation by the industry.

> Atresmedia Televisión is an active and founding member of Autocontrol, Spain's association for the self-regulation of commercial communications. This forum works towards enhancing compliance with advertising and competition laws and regulations and strengthening the assurances protecting advertisers, television channels and consumers.

Atresmedia Publicidad highlight activities in 2017

Atresmedia knows full well the power of new advertising formats, such as branded content, and has therefore optimised the use of its platforms in order to offer innovative spaces that have a real impact for advertisers. Key actions and initiatives with advertisers were as follows in 2017.

Los Hygge, una pareja muy natural was shown on laSexta as a docu-reality show sponsored by Arla. The campaign involved a total of six programmes on laSexta, teasers and other advance publicity and a press conference that enjoyed considerable press coverage.

The show content had its own microsite and was included on Atresplayer, shown on social networks and featured an ambitious activation plan.

In April, Amstel premièred El Pelotari and la Fallera at the Callao cinemas in Madrid. Directed by Julio Medem and starring Asier Etxeandia and Miriam Giovanelli, the short film was also shown during prime time on Atreseries, accompanied by teasers and advances. There was also a special programme covering the première of the film at Callao cinemas.

For the new Mixta campaign, Atresmedia and AEGIS designed a crossover with flagship prime time programmes El Hormiguero and El Intermedio in June. The initiative involved a live crossover between the El Hormiguero on Antena 3 and El Intermedio on laSexta for their new campaign, the Debate #MixtaDebatex, hosted by Juan and Damián from El Hormiguero and by Dani Mateo from El Intermedio. It was the first time this advertising format had been attempted by any Spanish media

To mark the launch of Justice League, Antena 3, Mega, Nova and Atreseries all launched an innovative new advertising format known as superbloque. The promotion was aired on 30 October during prime time so as reach the largest possible audience. Warner Bros was the first advertiser to take the plunge with this new format being offered by Atresmedia in partnership with IPG Mediabrands. The promotion got under way with a 20-second spot of the film, followed by five fivesecond clips each dedicated to the five superheroes and interspersed with adverts from other brands. and finally a second 20-second spot to end the promotion.

Radio

Atresmedia remains firmly committed to innovative radio formats and approaches that generate meaningful brand experiences for consumers and advertisers, such as developing ad hoc advertising pieces tailored to each client and to each phase of the Hoax story as part of the Christmas lottery campaign on radio station Europa FM and its website. The hosts simulated radio interference as if caused by aliens.

Meanwhile, several Europa FM radio jockeys came up with an advertising ploy for Vueling, inviting listeners to open the Shazam app in order to capture electronic voice phenomena. The app then redirected them to a landing page that deciphered the ghostly voice signals: a 25 euro discount code for Vueling flights!

Ballantine's opted for its own show. We sound, which was aired on Europa FM on Saturday afternoons.

In advertising, a "D" Day is a group of advertising actions carried out by an announcer over the course of a day, featuring various formats (mentions, interviews, news and live connections). This year, Onda Cero launched "D" Day Shiseido to let listeners know about the company's new range of products.

Digital

The new digital platforms are making it much easier to interact with users in different ways and provide more information on their tastes and habits. Here, there were two highlights in 2017.

Atresmedia acquired Smartclip Latam, allowing Atresmedia Publicidad to become the leading domestic operator in the digital advertising market by reaching out to over 90% of the population. Both companies are pioneers when it comes to coverage, premium content, brandsafe, viewability, transparency and online video.

Since January 2017, advertising time sales platform AUNIA -created in 2014- allows advertisers to choose not only their target audience and the time slot in which they wish to insert their campaigns, but also their chosen launchpad media group.

5324 Online

The Atresmedia Group continued to move forward with its video strategy by diversifying distribution channels, optimising user experience and enhancing content variety. Atresmedia Digital is the division that brings together all the Group's online activities, providing a powerful and wide-ranging distribution infrastructure that will enable it to adapt to the online world.

Atresmedia Digital's vision is to be recognised by users as synonymous with a comprehensive audiovisual experience, with a wide-ranging offer both comprising quality content drawn from Atresmedia's conventional platforms and content designed for the online medium exclusively.

Atresmedia Digital groups together and manages the websites of all the Group's channels and broadcasters, the online native platform Atresplayer (television video online platform), Temáticos&Partners (which includes special-interest portals and partnership agreements) and Flooxer (premium native content), as well as the social media operated by the Group's brands (220 profiles in total).

| WHAT DOESATRESMEDIA'SONLINE DIVISIONHAVE TO ACHIEVE?                         | HOW DOES IT ACHIEVE IT?  |
| Adapt to contentconsumption trends anddeliver content via allavailable media | Atresmedia has renovated the Group's catalogue of websites to make them more uniform, accessible and user-friendly. All the websites under the company's management have already adopted the "responsive" system and therefore adapt to all viewing devices.  As to the Group's OTT content distribution, new apps were developed for LG, Android TV and Apple TV sets, and we worked on improving the experience using devices such as Google Chromecast. |
| Leverage the advantages of online platforms to improve content accessibility             | In 2017, Atresmedia Digital exceeded 600 hours of subtitled ondemand content. Further information at Accessibility .  |

| Protect vulnerableaudiences having accessto distribution platforms                 | In 2017 we improved age rating signage on Atresplayer and implemented a project on Flooxer to identify users before they can access content for over 18's.  On a special-interest websites, Atresmedia advocates for responsible use of social media and new technologies. Our tech specialist website, Tecnoxplora, is particularly critical of children's exposure to inappropriate content and alerts to this unfortunately widespread phenomenon. # 2017 performance by line of business Atresmedia Internacional: 2017 was the year in which Atresmedia Internacional became firmly established: it achieved combined growth of close to 15% in distribution, and broke through the ceiling of 50 million subscribers. It is a leading broadcaster in Latin America and in the Spanish-speaking segment in the United States, and the European private operator with the most channels and the largest number of subscribers overseas.

| Strategic aims   | Channels   | Milestones   |  |
|--|--|--|--|
| O 5.: Distribution strategy that maximises content value O 7.: Leverage premium content demand O 8.: Global Atresmedia own content business O 9.: Expansion of international presence in the online advertising sector | Antena3  | Continued to grow in the United States. With the launch of its DirectTV signal, it achieved distribution of more than 70% in the Spanish-speaking pay-TV market. The year's most popular content included the series Velvet and the interview with Nicolás Maduro, which was simulcast in Spain.   |  |
|  | iHOLA! TV  | Created under an agreement between Atresmedia and iHOLA! magazine, the channel has 20 million household subscribers and produces 700 hours a year of original content. Having already acquired wide distribution in Mexico, Argentina and Colombia, the channel is now attracting new subscribers in the United States thanks to our deals with Altice, Sling and Cox. |  |
|  | A3S  | The channel aims to become a leading outlet for fiction series consumers overseas. Atreseries launches exclusive premieres of series produced by Atresmedia.   |  |
|  | The launch of Atrescine was prepared in 2017. Thanks to the partnership with Video Mercury Films, the world's largest distributor of Spanish pictures, Atrescine boasts the best catalogue of films in the Spanish-speaking world, with over 7,000 titles covering all genres. |  |  |

Milestones

O 8.: Global Atresmedia own content business

> Licences and merchandising

We have brought the Top Chef brand closer to the public under a deal with the Lidl supermarket chain, rolling out new activities and products with a high media impact. MISTERENTRADAS made partnership deals with major events like the Billy Elliot musical and the Harry Potter and Games of Thrones exhibitions.

Commercial programming We made deals with companies in several sectors - e.g. online gambling, telesales for morning and overnight broadcasts that generate revenue for both parties, such as Joyas TV on Nova or the European Poker Championship on IaSexta.

Media for Equity: Atresmedia's strategic investment in start-ups has positioned us as a key player in Spain's venture capital landscape.

The label's synergies with Universal Music translated into lending continuity to the Atresmúsica programme and the launch of the album Zapeando el verano in partnership with Globomedia.                 |  |

5.3.2.6. Cinema

Atresmedia Cine is the Group's film production division whereby Atresmedia complies with the requirement under the Audiovisual Act whereby television operators must invest part of their revenue in the Spanish film industry. Like the rest of television operators, the Atresmedia Group is opposed to the mandatory nature of the so-called "investment charge". However, we have turned this obligation into an opportunity.

Atresmedia Cine's vision is to achieve the same standard of quality that the Group demands from all its divisions and thus build a strong brand image in the film world and leverage its international visibility. Since it started business, Atresmedia Cine has released more than 120 titles, and our performance at the box office and at award ceremonies from year to year proves that we are a strong player in the film industry.

HOW DOES THE FILM DIVISION CREATE VALUE FOR THE ATRESMEDIA GROUP? HOW DOES IT ACHIEVE IT? Besides enabling us to comply with the obligations under the Extends the brand image Audiovisual Act, Atresmedia Cine's output places the Group in a strong to other industries position in the film industry. The success of the films in which Atresmedia is involved translates into Places Atresmedia on the visibility at international film festivals and award ceremonies, where international stage the Group's film division has gained a foothold as a leading production firm.

Atresmedia's film production activity places us in a leadership position: while in 2017 we were involved in only 6% of Spanish film releases that year, those titles accounted for 29.3% of box office takings by Spanish films.

In addition to supporting Spanish film, through Atresmedia Cine the Group leverages synergies with Planeta by adapting bestselling novels for the silver screen. In 2017 we adapted the first novel in the Baztán trilogy by Fernando González Molina, El guardián invisible, with Marta Etura in the main role.

As with the rest of the Group's content production, Atresmedia seeks to create high-quality and responsible feature films that are inclusive of all audiences and a diversity of genres. Furthermore, Atresmedia supports the talent of both firmly established directors - such as Alex de la Iglesia, Fernando González Molina and Álvaro Díaz Lorenzo - and up-and-coming names. Examples include Andrés Koppel and Oriol Paulo, who after their hit film El cuerpo saw renewed success with their second feature, Contratiempo, starring Mario Casas, Bárbara Lennie, Ana Wagener and José Coronado, which in its first week of release was among the top 10 grossing films in China.

International dimension

Atresmedia Cine, the Group's film division, has considerable international visibility through its presence at film festivals and award ceremonies, and overseas box office takings for films produced by the Group. In 2017, Spanish films that performed strongly internationally included El cuerpo, Contratiempo, El desconocido and Villaviciosa de al lado.

Box office performance

In 2017 Atresmedia Cine released nine feature films which grossed close to 30 million euros at the box office and drew over 4.9 million filmgoers.

Five of its films ranked among the top 10 grossing Spanish films in 2017 (Señor, dame paciencia, Toc, Contratiempo, El guardián invisible, El bar) and a further two among the top 15 (Abracadabra and Villaviciosa de al lado, which was already a hit in 2016).

Awards

Álex de la Iglesia's thriller El Bar, starring Mario Casas, Blanca Suárez and Carmen Machi, was released in several countries and screened at the Berlinale film festival (out of competition).

At the Málaga film festival Atresmedia Cine presented three of its productions. Two titles competing for awards, the thriller Plan de Fuga, directed by Iñaki Dorronsoro, which won the biznaga for best soundtrack, and the thriller La niebla y la doncella. The comedy Señor, dame paciencia was screened as the festival's closing film.

In the summer we released Abracadabra, directed by Pablo Berger and starring Maribel Verdú, José Mota and Antonio de la Torre. The film was critically acclaimed and nominated this year for the Premios Feroz, Medallas CEC and Premios Goya awards, including the "Best picture" category.

Based on a short story by Arturo Pérez Reverte, Atresmedia Cine's last production of 2017 was Oro, directed by Agustín Díaz Yanes and starring José Coronado, Bárbara Lennie and Raúl Arévalo. This historical adventure film was nominated for six Gova awards.

Forthcoming productions

Atresmedia Cine is in the process of producing the ambitious animation feature films Dragon Keeper, in partnership with China, and Klaus, directed by Sergio Pablos, which has been acquired by Netflix. In 2018 we shall also release the fantasy thriller Down a Dark Hall, starring Uma Thurman, the Western The Sisters Brothers, with Jake Gyllenhaal, and the drama Inmersión, directed by Wim Wenders, with Alicia Vikander and James McAvoy, which was screened at the San Sebastián film festival.

5.3.3. Major stakeholders

(GRI 102-40, 102-42, 102-43, 102-44)

Atresmedia has identified the following stakeholders with whom it interacts in the course of its business: advertisers, audiences, shareholders, employees, suppliers (distributors, production firms and service providers), regulators and wider society.

To know its stakeholders' demands, Atresmedia has set up an email account for receiving feedback and comments on its content, advertising and technical incidents, requests for information, and suggestions for collaboration on a variety of fronts. This account received 297 mails in 2017. Other communication tools include the shareholder, investor and advertiser offices, and a public helpline that has taken more than three 34,000 calls.

One of Atresmedia's priority external stakeholders is its audiences. In line with its unwavering commitment to meeting the demands of viewers regarding the content of its channels, in 2017 Atresmedia conducted 70 focus groups, gathering the opinions and assessments of around 560 people. This dialogue initiative is rounded off with proactive social media management. Atresmedia has 220 corporate profiles available to 43 million users, with which it has ongoing dialogue.

We supplemented these actions with the launch of Atreseries Opina, which is Atresmedia's commitment to listen to the community and engage with the public, and thus keep in direct touch with our television audiences. This activity enabled us to attract 70 proposals a month over our specially designed website: Atreseries.com/opina

The Group believes it is essential to keep up an open and unrestricted dialogue with employees. We have accordingly put in place the following employee communication channels: an orientation manual for new entrants, the MASD3 online magazine, and a corporate intranet project.

Finally, to produce this report Atresmedia has taken stock of its stakeholders' perceptions and expectations by running a direct survey over the course of the first weeks of 2018. The Company has updated its materiality matrix and identified priorities for Atresmedia and its stakeholders.

In addition to eliciting its stakeholders' opinions and concerns, Atresmedia tries to familiarise them with how the media industry works by providing guided tours of our premises so that visitors can see how the Group operates. Over the course of 2017 close to 2,300 people across 96 visits by schools, universities, advertisers, associations and foundations had a first-hand glimpse of the Group's day-to-day work at Atresmedia's premises and facilities.

5.3.4. Corporate responsibility (GRI 102-44)

Atresmedia published its first Corporate Responsibility Policy in 2010. The policy was updated in 2015, based on the recommendations in the CNMV's new Good Governance Code, and approved by the Board of Directors, becoming the General Corporate Responsibility Policy. Its content and objectives are available on the Group's corporate website (www.atresmediacorporacion. com). The Corporate Responsibility Policy is overseen by the Audit and Control Committee. This policy is supplemented by the responsible advertising, human resources, social commitment and environmental policies applicable to nonfinancial areas affected by, or that could be affected by, the Group's operations.

The policy sets out the Group's commitments and the guiding principles for delivering on them in the right way. Our commitments and principles complement the Group's strategic priorities, and guide the actions we take to achieve them:

| Commitment  | Principles of action   |
|---|--|
| C 1. To produce andbroadcast responsible newsand entertainment contentthat is accessible for allsociety | Quality, commitment, accessibility, accuracy, viewpoint diversity; and protection of and advocacy for human rights   |
| C 2. To promote high quality,honest and ethical advertising   | Honest and transparent business management, service quality, advertising self-regulation, respect for human rights, child protection, and commitment to wider society            |

Atresmedia undertakes to apply these principles horizontally across all its activities. Therefore, Atresmedia conceives of its Group responsibility as a twofold commitment...

CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY AT ATRESMEDIA

Impeccable performance of its core business

Atresmedia broadcasts responsible content and advertising, while minimising its environmental impact, caring for the well-being of employees and ensuring the integrity of its system of governance.

Using its outreach to bring about positive social change

Atresmedia champions social progress by raising public awareness through actions embodied in Compromiso Atresmedia and its foundation. For more information, see Contribution to society.

Atresmedia's Corporate Responsibility Committee is comprehensive in its concerns and consultative and advisory in its nature. Committee members include representatives drawn from Human Resources, Operations, Internal Audit, Corporate Governance, Advertising, Radio and Television Content, News and Current Affairs, and Fundación Atresmedia

The main milestone in 2017 for integration of corporate responsibility with Atresmedia's overall strategy was the adoption of the 2018-2020 Corporate Responsibility Master Plan, which involves all Company areas horizontally. The aim of this second Corporate Responsibility Master Plan is to create internal and external value from a corporate responsibility perspective. After preliminary analysis of good practices, trends and key stakeholders' demands and a second stage involving internal diagnosis of Atresmedia's situation as to the wider community, good governance and the environment, we identified a range of lines of action and a catalogue of monitoring indicators that will enable us to tie corporate responsibility to the running of the business itself.

> The Board adopted the Master Plan at its meeting of 20 December 2017

5.3.5. Management quality

One of Atresmedia's priority goals is to achieve the highest standards of quality in every show and every advertisement it broadcasts, and in its management processes. To ensure this, Atresmedia has a Quality Management System targeting control and continuous improvement in the organisation's key processes applied to the Group's main businesses.

The Internal Audit and Process Control Department coordinates this System, while the Quality Committee, comprising members representing the departments that are most closely involved, meets at regular intervals to review the System and oversee the implementation of action plans and improvements.

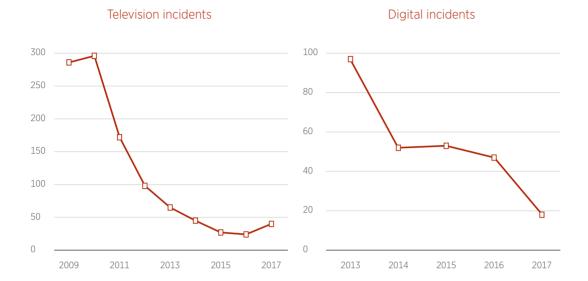

> Audience perception research showed again this year that Antena 3 is the highest-rated general-interest channel. It is perceived as the most diverse channel and the one most concerned to create quality content.

The System is supported by a corporate app that identifies, classifies and categorises all incidents, whether or not they affect broadcasting. We also have in place a monthly communication and reporting system that informs the management of the Group and of the business units of the source of quality defects, the description and classification of each incident, and all steps taken to correct it.

The system follows these steps:

The effectiveness of the system and the improvement plans launched since the Quality System was introduced have notably reduced the number of incidents arising in the course of content production, recording and broadcasting.

In 2017, incidents mainly related to on-screen lower-third text during live broadcasts. To minimise incidents we have introduced several plans to enhance technology and processes for content and advertising broadcasting on television. The main features of the improvements introduced as a result of the Quality System are:

- Increased resources allocated to recording and monitoring television quality incidents
- Implementation of the New Protocol for Broadcasting Supervisor-Controller Communication This additional control mechanism within the broadcasting process is based on a new protocol of action and vigilance applicable to the Supervision and Control positions.
- · Introduction of Versio. This is a new level of security with a backup continuity system for continuity and broadcasting processes.

In the online division, the main improvements in 2017 related to encoders for live radio listening, addition of new providers of programmed advertising who reinforce security for advertising content broadcasting, and enhanced monitoring and control of advertising broadcasting on the web and other devices. Thanks to these improvements, among others, incidents across all platforms decreased by 61% with respect to last year.

5.4. Ethics management

Atresmedia has in place a robust ethics management scheme to ensure that our news, current affairs, entertainment and advertising content reflects the exercise of responsible, diverse and independent reporting. The scheme is based on three main tools: the codes of ethics of Antena 3 Noticias and laSexta Noticias; the Corporate Responsibility Policy; and the Atresmedia Code of Conduct.

The codes of ethics set out the principles and standards that shape the rules of conduct for news and current affairs programming on the Group's television channels. The Antena 3 news and current affairs units are subject to the requirement that they offer reliable, quality reporting that is compliant with the following principles:

- No conduct or information may violate the principles enshrined in the Spanish Constitution or breach any law or regulation.
- The language we use must respect and reflect Spain's linguistic diversity.
- Respecting the dignity of people in all the information we provide.
- Upholding the right to a private and family life.
- Upholding the rights of people whose circumstances place them in a position of weakness or make them vulnerable to discrimination.
- Ensuring strict compliance with the watersheds in place to protect children.
- Respecting all people, regardless of race, religion, moral conviction, social origin, sexuality or any other matter relating to their beliefs.
- Voicing the concerns of national and international organisations and groups that fight to protect underprivileged people and combat inequality and injustice.
- Avoiding any conflict of interest between the professionals involved in news programmes.
- Clearing and explicitly separating information and news telling from advertising. Also 10 drawing a clear and unequivocal distinction between news telling and information that involves any kind of interpretation or critical discussion of current events.
- Complying and upholding the legal principle of the presumption of innocence.
- Taking extreme care when the news or information involves children and respecting all 12 the principles and criteria governing the right to privacy and the protection of children.

The Code of Ethics of laSexta Noticias ensures accurate and diverse reporting that is committed to the following principles:

- Respecting the Spanish Constitution and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights of the United Nations
- Voicing the concerns of national and international organisations and groups that fight to protect underprivileged people and combat inequality and injustice
- Avoiding rude or coarse expressions, which may only be used when they add useful information or help understand the news. If included, they may only be uttered by the subjects themselves and not by the news presenters or editors
- Warning audiences before violent images are shown, which may only be displayed when they add relevant information
- Verifying all information broadcast by laSexta Noticias so as to tell both sides of the story
- Presuming all people to be innocent until proven otherwise by a court of law. For court cases, the information will indicate the situation of the defendant
- Respecting people's private life
- Mentioning any media or press source from which exclusive information has been

In its section on accuracy and viewpoint diversity, the Corporate Responsibility Policy sets out a commitment to reporting that enables members of the public to form their own opinion freely and on a properly informed basis. Furthermore, the section on protection of and advocacy for human rights ensures support for freedom of speech, diversity of viewpoints and non-discriminatory content.

To ensure that these values are present in all Atresmedia's content, the Group has two editorial committees charged with overseeing the independence and viewpoint diversity of its professionals, and the rigour, objectivity and truthfulness in the performance of their work in creating and selecting content for the Group's channels. The editorial committees meet weekly and monthly.

Weekly committee

Scrutinises the content shown on all channels, paying special attention to the independence of the professionals involved and ensuring that all viewpoints and ideas are heard.

Monthly committee

Reaches decisions on the principles and approaches followed by all Atresmedia channels, relying on on the comments raised by the weekly committee.

Atresmedia also has a Code of Conduct that sets out general guidelines of action to be followed by Atresmedia employees and partners and any person providing services at Atresmedia, in connection with basic principles of conduct, relations among employees, internal control and fraud prevention, and commitment to the market, the Company and the community.

As a media group, Atresmedia receives government assistance, but this does not compromise the principles of independence and rigour inherent in the Group's activity. Government assistance in 2017 amounted to 10.57 million euros. Atresmedia does not receive aid from non-government sources.

Government assistance 2015 2016 2017 6.4 million 7.8 million 10.57 million

GOVERNANCE AND DECISION-MAKING PROCESSES

Atresmedia's system of governance is based on its Corporate Governance Policy, the main aim of which is to support and protect the common interests of the organisation and its stakeholders, as reflected in the principles set out in that policy.

System of Corporate Governance

6.1. General Meeting

6.1.1. Powers, procedure, performance

The General Meeting is the highest decision-making organ of the company, and its activities are governed by its own General Meeting Regulations. The powers of the General Meeting are set out in article 19 of the Company's Articles and in the General Meeting Regulations. The text of these rules are permanently available on the corporate website.

> The guorum reached at the general meeting held on 19 April 2017 was 79.804% of share capital. Shareholders accounting for 18.755% of share capital were present in person, while shareholders accounting for 61.049% were present by proxy.

At the annual General Meeting of 2017 the shareholders adopted the financial statements, management report, and appropriation of earnings for 2016, approved of the Board's performance, and passed resolutions in the following respects:

- Declare a special dividend to be paid out of voluntary reserves.
- Approve the policy on remuneration to directors of Atresmedia Corporación for 2018, 2019 and 2020.
- Take a consultative vote on the annual report on directors' remuneration for 2016

6.1.2. Right to attend, delegation and voting

The right to attend General Meetings is vested in holders of 400 shares or more. All shareholders entitled to attendance are likewise entitled to be present by proxy. Proxies may be granted by means of the form of words for delegation set out on the Attendance, Proxy and Voting Card or any other form of words allowed by law. Shareholders owning at least 400 shares may delegate their voting rights to a shareholder who likewise has voting rights by reason of his or her shareholding.

Atresmedia allows remote voting at General Meetings electronically or by post. To ascertain the authenticity and proper identification of a shareholder exercising his or her rights of proxy representation or voting by means of the remote facilities provided by Atresmedia, the statutory rules on recognised electronic signature and advanced electronic signature apply.

6.2. Board of Directors

6.2.1. Membership, powers, procedure and performance

The Board of Directors is the organ in charge of managing and representing the Company. The Board conducts its activity in accordance with the rules of organisation and operation set out in the Company's articles and the Board Regulations.

At 31 December 2017<sup>1</sup>, the Board comprised 13 directors, 4 of whom were women, of an average age of 58.4 years. Director classes and the shareholders they represent are set out below::

José Creuheras Chairman Executive - Proprietary

Maurizio Carlotti Other non-executive

Silvio González Chief Executive Officer Executive

Patricia Estany Coordinating Director Independent

Josep María Benet Proprietary

Mauricio Casals Member Proprietary

Aurora Catà Member Independent

Marco Drago Proprietary

María Entrecanales Independent

Elmar Heggen Member Proprietary

José Manuel Lara Member Proprietary

Mónica Ribé Member Independent

Nicolas de Tavernost Proprietary

Manuel de la Viuda Secretary

Margarita González Vice-Secretary

Note 1 The membership of the governance organs set out below is that prevailing at 31 December 2017. On 28 February 2018, four changes occurred affecting the membership and internal positions of the Board committees. First, Patricia Estany resigned as a member - and hence as the Chair - of the Appointments and Remuneration Committee by reason of a supervening conflict of interest. Secondly, Mónica Ribé was appointed to that committee. Thirdly, Aurora Catá resigned as Chair of the Audit and Control Committee when her term ran out. And, fourthly, Mónica Ribé was appointed as Chair of that committee.

The Board has opted for a model of separation of powers between the Chief Executive Officer and the Chairman, who is also an executive director, so an independent director, Patricia Estany Puig, was appointed as Lead Independent Director.

Board diversity

Atresmedia's directors have the full range of skills and knowledge required by the Group's activity. All boast solid careers in management and strategy, with most having experience in the media sector. Some directors have broad experience in finance and risks, backed up by experienced in insurance. Atresmedia has four non-Spanish directors, who are nationals of France, Germany and Italy.

In 2017 the Board met on 10 occasions. The key decisions were to:

- approve the acquisition of Smartclip Latam S.L.;
- propose to the shareholders, at the annual General Meeting, that a special dividend be declared, to be paid out of voluntary reserves;
- approve the alteration of the director class of Maurizio Carlotti, who henceforth is to be treated as "other non-executive" instead of executive. and adopt the terms and conditions for the engagement of his professional services as Vice Chairman of the Company and as an adviser on strategy;
- adopt the protocol on the involvement of the Board's Executive Committee in especially important matters;
- · adopt the protocol on succession of the Chairman of the Board and of the Chief Executive Officer;
- adopt the 2018-2020 Corporate Responsibility Master Plan.

Director appointments and departures

Atresmedia has in place a Director Selection Policy based on two main factors: the external laws, regulations and standards that apply to Atresmedia (Ley de Sociedades de Capital [Companies Act], Ley de Auditoría de Cuentas [Auditing Act] and the principles and recommendations of Spain's good governance code for listed companies); and Atresmedia's own internal rules and standards (Board Regulations and Company's Articles).

The Director Selection Policy is based on the insight that appointments to the Board should be based on the following decisive factors: shareholder structure of the company; diversity of knowledge and experience of directors, their ability to dedicate sufficient time to doing their job, and their specialisation in specific key fields (finance, law, audiovisual management, etc); absence of actual or potential conflicts of interest; and a personal commitment by each director to defend editorial independence and further the interests of the company. The policy also sets the medium-term goal to achieve a greater presence of women on the Board - the 30% level was reached in 2016 - and ensures the absence of obstacles to their appointment.

As to the selection process, proprietary directors are nominated by major shareholders, who submit their nominations to the Chairman of the Board: executive directors are selected by a consensus of major shareholders; and independent directors are selected by the Appointments and Remuneration Committee

6.2.2. Assessment and remuneration

The Chairman of the Board is responsible for organising and coordinating with the chairpersons of the Committees the periodic assessment of the Board and of the Chief Executive Officer.

The 2016 assessment was conducted with the assistance of an independent consultant in line with the practice to be implemented every three years in accordance with Recommendation 36 of the Good Governance Code. In 2016, the assessment was based on personal interviews conducted by the external consultants with most directors, at least including all executive directors and all independent directors.

Internal assessment is conducted on the basis of the annual reports on the membership, procedures and activities of the Board and its committees and responses to individual assessment questionnaires sent to all directors. The outcome of the assessment is a specific report which is first considered by the Appointments and Remuneration Committee and then adopted by the full Board. This report sets out an action plan and proposed improvements for the year, and the company discloses any changes arising as a result in its Annual Corporate Governance Report.

The Remuneration Policy in its current form was approved at the 2017 Annual General Meeting and will remain in effect from 2018 through to 2020. The principles and criteria underpinning the Company's remuneration policy are as follows:

- Stability, objectivity and transparency of the remuneration system.
- Remuneration commensurate to earnings: the Company may lower the remuneration paid to directors or add additional remuneration pegged to the attainment of targets relevant to the Company's interests and pursuits.
- Scale of the Atresmedia Group.
- Dedication, experience and expertise of Board members based on the sector of activity. Specific remuneration will be different for executive directors and for other Board members heavily involved in the Company
- Different levels of remuneration for directors who provide specific services to the Company, even if not strictly executive.
- · Variable remuneration for executive directors who dedicate all their time to the Company. This pay will be pegged to the attainment of financial results and to their remaining a director at the Atresmedia Group.
- Long-term variable remuneration consisting of a share option plan for the Chairman and CEO: includes long-term financial objectives and is contingent on them remaining at the Atresmedia Group. This remuneration is subject to a target and upper limit of 8,930,900 euros.
- Variable remuneration payable in cash is limited to a maximum percentage of the beneficiary's fixed salary and no unforeseen deviations are permitted.

The heads of remuneration vary on the basis of each director's duties and responsibilities. All directors and all members of the Executive Committee receive a fixed remuneration component and per diem allowances for attendance at meetings of the Board and its committees.

At a General Meeting in 2016 the shareholders passed a resolution that set a ceiling on remuneration to the Board and specified the heads of remuneration it includes. Under the resolution, the total annual remuneration to which directors are entitled by virtue of their office and in respect of committee memberships is capped at 3 million euros.

The Annual Report on Directors' Remuneration, which is available on the CNMV website and Atresmedia's corporate website, reflects the application of the Policy in the reference year and breaks down directors' remuneration into specific items.

The decisions adopted in 2017 by the Board and its committees are set out in the reports on their membership, procedures and activities, which are published on the corporate website in the General Meeting section.

6.3.1. Executive Committee

The Committee's main role is to do the preparatory work for Board meetings.

The Committee is chaired by the Chairman of the Board, and one of the members is the Lead Independent Director. In 2017, the Executive Committee met on 11 occasions. All meetings were on the ordinary schedule, which is in line with the ordinary schedule of Board meetings, except for an additional Committee meeting held in January to consider the main points of the running of the Group's business and review the provisional estimates for the 2016 year-end.

6.3.2. Audit and Control Committee

The duties of the Audit and Control Committee include assisting the Board in supervising the financial reporting process, the company's internal control, the work and independence of the external auditor, and the monitoring of the corporate governance and corporate responsibility principles and policies. Most Committee members are independent directors, including the Chair, and none of the members is an executive director. The Audit and Control Committee met six times in 2017, with attendance by the external auditor at three of the meetings. The external auditor also held a meeting with the full Board.

The Audit and Control Committee is reported to by the Compliance Committee, the procedures, membership and duties of which are set out in the Compliance Regulations. The Committee is a collegial body vested in the power to construe and apply the Group's Code of Conduct and to manage the Crime Prevention Model. The Committee is composed of executives from various management areas and chaired by the Chief Compliance Officer, a position held by an external independent professional. A Compliance Officer for Crime Prevention has also been appointed, with a seat on the Compliance Committee. He or she reports regularly to the Audit and Control Committee, especially with respect to crime-related risks, and the controls in place, as well as the operation of the Whistleblowing Channel.

The Compliance Committee approves crime prevention training plans. In 2016 and 2017, training was given to 83.3% of Group employees, executives and middle management. The Compliance Officer for Crime Prevention updates information on the model regularly in communications sent to all employees (the most recent in January 2018).

6.3.3. Appointments and Remuneration Committee

Tasks assigned to the Appointments and Remuneration Committee include defining and supervising application of the remuneration policy for directors and senior executives, and selecting and appointing directors (especially independent directors) in accordance with the specific corporate policy. The composition of the collegial management bodies must have a direct relationship with the composition of share capital, although the Committee may still pursue its objective of achieving a balanced and diverse membership. The Committee held four meetings in 2017. A majority of Committee members are independent directors

6.4. Risk management

6.4.1. Risk management and control system

Atresmedia's Risk Management and Control System, which is under the ultimate oversight of the Board, is a tool that assists Management in its decision-making processes. The Audit and Control Committee oversees the operation of the model and provides the Board with the information required for it to take decisions in this respect.

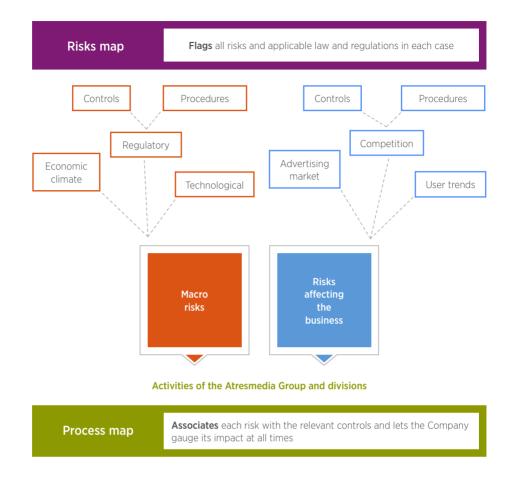

By identifying and assessing risks and implementing controls and action plans for each situation, the system minimises the impact that might arise if a risk materialises and thus creates value throughout the Group. The scope of the system is Group-wide: risk analysis and control touches on all the Group's activities and involves all our organisational units.

Since 2015, Atresmedia uses the SAP tool known as GRC (Governance, Risk and Compliance) to systematise, classify and document the monitoring of all risks faced by the Group, as well as the associated controls.

The main aim of the Risk Management and Control System is to identify risks, perform frequent assessments and define and apply specific control procedures to mitigate such risks. The specific aims are to:

- · Ensure consistency and uniformity when specifying, identifying and measuring risks in all the Group's businesses.
- Ensure that controls are applied in accordance with a testing schedule, measure their effectiveness and document the outcome.
- · Continuous improvement of the system by evaluating controls and identifying new potential risks on a scheduled basis. The controls required for the new risks are then specified and implemented.
- Define and communicate policies, protocols and procedures to Group business units, offering users guidelines issued by the Group's control and governing bodies.
- Comply with laws, regulations and standards applicable to the Group's activities.

The Compliance System is a subset of the Risk Management and Control System. The Compliance System supports compliance with all laws and regulations, both specifically applicable to the sectors in which Atresmedia operates and generally applicable to listed companies. For further information, see System of compliance.

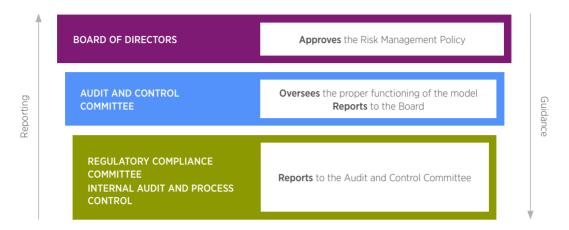

The system covers all risks (external and inherent to the business; financial and non-financial - operational, IT, legal, social, environmental, political and reputational) and the regulations applicable to each. It also establishes the controls and procedures that prevent the materialisation of these risks. The entire prevention and response mechanism is reflected in Atresmedia's risk map.

In addition to the risk map, the Group has a process map, which maps risks and controls to a range of internal, business and corporate processes. Management therefore has a tool that can detect risks that may arise at any time and have a greater impact on the Group's processes and divisions.

Ultimate responsibility for the GRC Model rests with the Board of Directors. However, the Board is reported to by the Audit and Control Committee, which oversees the operation of the Model. The Audit and Control Committee in turn is briefed by the Regulatory Compliance Committee and by the Internal Audit and Process Control areas.

As the system is Group-wide in scope, the rest of Group units are also involved in its operation, as shown in the following diagram.

SAP GRC

*Pedro Ramón y Cajal is the current chairman of the Regulatory Compliance Committee. He is both independent and non-executive and has been granted the broadest decision-making authority.

The process of assessing risks and designing response plans go through the following stages:

Once the assessment has been completed, in the light of the results the system sets in motion an additional and exhaustive monitoring process for any risks that finally materialise or are more likely to do so. The response to risks that meet either of these two requirements is graduated on the basis of the stage at which they are identified: avoid, accept, reduce or share.

Based on Atresmedia's chosen approach to a risk, its extent of materialisation and the scenario that occurrence of the risk would affect, we implement appropriate action plans. Risks can arise in the following domains: regulation, competition, advertising market, technological, business, trends among communities and users, and general economic climate.

The control tools for each risk on the risk map referred to above are:

- Policies, Procedures and Protocols, adequately notified through the corporate communication channels to the affected areas and people.
- IT Control Tools, such as:
  - GRC (Governance, Risks and Compliance) system
  - Procurement management system
  - Contractual engagement proposal management and authorisation system
  - Programme budget management and authorisation system
  - Quality system
  - IT application for compliance with the internal rules relating to securities markets

· Whistleblowing channel:

Enables all employees to notify, in an easy and confidential manner, those procedures that constitute inappropriate conduct or behaviour under the Code of Conduct or any other applicable legislation, and especially those that do not comply with the Internal Control over Financial Reporting (ICFR) System.

• Control procedures relating to the Internal Control over Financial Reporting (ICFR) system:

Atresmedia, in its undertaking to provide reliable, integral, true and uniform information to investments and to the market, has implemented an Internal Control over Financial Reporting (ICFR) System that guarantees the accuracy of the financial information issued.

Compliance Committee and Chief Compliance Officer

The body charged with the management, surveillance, coordination and integration of corporate policies and actions aimed at complying with all applicable legislation and regulations (both external and internal protocols and procedures), as well as supervision of compliance with the Code of Conduct. Internal conduct regulation in securities market matters.

- Internal Code of Conduct on Matters Relating to the Securities Markets
- Compliance Officer for Crime Prevention

6.4.2. Main risks materialising in 2017

| Identified risk       | Event   | Atresmedia response   |
|-----------------------|---|---|
| Advertising market    | The loss of correlation between the performance of the advertising market and the performance of the wider economy throughout Europe has posed difficulties as to framing our marketing policy. | Through its own and third party research Atresmedia is highly familiar with the advertising market and adapts its marketing policy on the basis of actual and forecast developments.  Moreover, Atresmedia has acquired Smartclip so as to grow in the online advertising market. |
| Increased competition | Considerable increase in the offer of pay-TV and OTT operators in Spain.  Declining consumption of linear TV across the board, but with a lower impact in Atresmedia channels.                  | Atresmedia has made deals and alliances with pay-TV operators and OT T platforms to widen the distribution of its content. Increased expenditure on Atresplayer Brand reinforcement for offering content over the widest possible range of platforms.                             |

| Criminalproceedings relatingto SGAE | Atresmedia has been affectedby court orders issued against anumber of authors. Atresmediahas not been charged withany criminal liability; it hasmerely been ordered to disclosedocuments. | The existence of our Crime Prevention Model, the Whistleblowing Channel, the Code of Conduct, the GRC System and the Crime Prevention Protocol has successfully prevented any criminal liability for Atresmedia arising from this case. In addition, the Group has undertaken a comprehensive review of the business area concerned, leading to the design and implementation of new specific controls that reflect the experience acquired in the past few months. |

6.4.3. Cybersecurity and data protection

Being aware of the IT-related threats attendant on technological progress, Atresmedia has an IT Systems and Security unit - a department of I3Televisión - which provides comprehensive IT security services to all Group companies. In this field, Atresmedia focuses on two factors:

Cybersecurity

Atresmedia has set in motion a comprehensive cybersecurity project to provide technology, services and/or tools that ensure the availability and continuity of its information assets 365 days a year.

> Cybersecurity is defined as the set of measures that ensure the availability of the elements that compose cyberspace. Cyberspace is conceived of as comprising a set of IT-related elements that provide essential services for the activities of a corporation. We focus on the elements that relate to critical infrastructure.

Principles of Good Cyber Security at Atresmedia

- Improving surveillance of networks and systems.
- Having centralised management tools and registries. Monitoring and correlating events (network traffic, remote users, administrator passwords).
- Designing and complying with the Corporate Security Policy.
- Ensuring secure configurations of all corporate network components.
- Using trustworthy and certified products, equipment and services, as well as accredited networks and systems for sensitive or classified information.
- Providing an agile and flexible means of exchanging information on threats and cyber incidents.
- Ensuring the management's commitment to cyber security by having the team accept the risks and support the policies.
- Training and raising awareness of cyber security across all levels of the corporation.
- Complying with the law and applicable standards and pursuing best practices.
- 10 Being resilient: ensuring that systems remain online even when under attack.

Atresmedia follows a Reference Model that ensures that the purposes of Cybersecurity services are achieved. The model has four main functions that reflect the natural stages of the risk emergence process:

- Governance: managing cybersecurity through risk management, policy design, awareness-raising, etc.
- · Protection: protecting information, managing access and identities, protecting IT applications and infrastructure (network security, systems security, etc).
- Vigilance: managing threats and running security analyses.
- Resilience: managing incidents.

Based on this model, Atresmedia has built its Cybersecurity Strategy, which follows four principles:

- · Efficient management: the aim is to maximise available resources and protect assets in a proportionate way.
- Vigilance: the goal is to anticipate threats and adapt to new digital models.
- · Gives Value: the system is usable for employees, reliable for shareholders and fit-for-purpose for customers.
- · Resilience: the system provides prompt and flexible responses that are proportionate to the threat.

Data protection

To complete its Cybersecurity Strategy, the Atresmedia Group has put in place an IT Security Model to comply with the Ley Orgánica de Protección de Datos, Spain's Data Protection Act. The specification, construction and purpose of the model mean that it is relational, structured, parametrisable, scalable and capable of providing comprehensive solutions. It has its own organisational structure and is overseen by an IT security committee.

In 2016, Regulation (EU) 2016/679, the General Data Protection Regulation, entered into force. It shall become applicable and replace the rules now prevailing on 25 May 2018. The Member States of the European Union and its institutions, companies and organisations must make their systems compliant before that deadline. Atresmedia is adapting its current IT Security Model so as to comply with the new regulatory requirements demanded by the RGPD.

6.5. Compliance system

One of the control tools within Atresmedia's GRC risk and control management system is the Compliance Model. The model must:

- ensure compliance with all laws and regulations, whether specific to the sectors in which Atresmedia operates or generally applicable to listed companies and all businesses (employment, tax, environment, etc);
- ensure compliance with the preventive requirements introduced by the recent reform of the Spanish Criminal Code as to the criminal liability of
- · set out procedures and approaches to prevent any offence contrary to the
- · if a criminal offence were in the event committed, ensure that criminal liability does not attach to the corporation, or that such liability be attenuated by reason of appropriate control measures having been adopted.

Atresmedia's compliance function is the set of rules, standards, procedures, IT tools and other technical and human resources the common purpose of which is that the Atresmedia Group's activities at all times comply with the law and remain consistent with the ethical principles that the Group itself has put in place to guide its business as a media group and as an enterprise.

The Compliance System has the following dimensions:

- · Laws and regulations applicable to Atresmedia, both specifically to the sectors in which it operates and generally to all companies.
- Compliance risks: the GRC system identifies and assesses compliance risks in connection with all laws and regulations applicable to Atresmedia.
- Compliance risk controls: a range of specific controls are in place to mitigate identified compliance risks, in addition to general controls. Specific controls are regularly assessed by the designated officer responsible for each control.

The elements of the Atresmedia Compliance Model are classified into three categories:

| Elementtype                  | Element  | Function   | Officer in charge  |
|----------------------------------|--|--|--|
| 1. Organisational and functional | RegulatoryComplianceCommittee(RCC) | Collegial body with overall responsibility for managing the Compliance Model and for construing and applying the Code of Conduct. # OUR CONTRIBUTION

7.1. To shareholders

7.1.1. Share performance

Because media groups tend to rely heavily on advertising revenue, their stock market performance has traditionally been pegged to economic growth, as this influences the investment decisions of advertisers. In 2017, a year in which growth projections have been systemically upgraded, we witnessed an unusual phenomenon: while household consumption increased, certain sectors actually lowered their advertising expenditure by nearly 10%.

Although Spanish GDP growth was up 3.1% and the total advertising market gained 2.3% in 2017, the television market failed to make it past 1% growth. This difference is because certain industries, typically very active in the advertising markets, pared back their spending during the year. A prime example here is the mass consumption market, which accounts for nearly 30% of the total advertising market.

Atresmedia's share price gained 14% in early 2017, well above the 4% growth in advertising investment that would explain the correlation. Come April, however, investment dipped sharply by some 16%. This had a significant impact on the Company's market performance in the second quarter, leading to a 14% correction in its share price. Since then, the advertising market has continued to fall, bringing with it the price of the Atresmedia's share, which ended the year down 16.3%. The Company's main competitor, Mediaset España, turned in a similar performance, with its share price sliding 16.1% to close out the year at 9.359 euros per share, a far cry from the gains reported by Spain's blue-chip Ibex 35 stock index, which added 7.4% in the year. It was much the same story for other listed media companies operating in Europe (with the exception of French television broadcasters), bringing the average drop in share prices across the sector to 5.9%.

The Company's main competitor, Mediaset España, turned in a similar performance, with its share price sliding 16.1% in 2017, a far cry from the gains reported by Spain's blue-chip IBEX 35 stock index, which added 7.4% in the year.

TV sector shares evolution in 2017: -5.9%

The 25 analysts that follow Atresmedia's share price all downgraded their target price projections to 10.33 euros at 31 December, still some way off the 8.7 euros finally reported at year-end. Atresmedia's average target price drifted up and down throughout 2017 as the business outlook steadily deteriorated, climbing from 11.88 euros in January to 12.30 euros as market conditions improved and then dipping to 10.33 euros at 31 December.

7.1.2. Shareholder return

Since Atresmedia was admitted to trading, the Company's dividend policy has remained extremely stable, with the Company returning at least 80% of its reported net profit to shareholders.

In 2017, shareholders received three dividends:

The total shareholder return during the year came to € 0.92 per share.

While the share price fell during the year, the dividend yield (dividend per share/ share price) stood at 10%, or 9.20% of the average share price in the year.

| Net cash flows from financing activities | -130.3 | -79.5 |
| Net increase/(decrease) in cash          | 17.4   | 0.5   |

7.1.4. Transparency

Not content with simply honouring its minimum legal obligations, Atresmedia went one step further in 2015 by devising an analyst and investor communication policy in response to recommendation number 4 of the Code of Good Governance of Listed Companies released by the Spanish CNMV (securities market regulator) in February of that year. The recommendation calls on companies to draw up an internal policy that affords all shareholders equal treatment while helping to prevent market abuse. It also asks that the policy be posted on the company's website.

General principles of the Communication Policy with Shareholders and Investors

- Continuity and integrity of the information, including any issue which is specially significant for the shareholders, investors, financial intermediaries and the markets in general.
- Equal treatment to all shareholders
- Fostering dialogue with shareholders and investors
- Getting the Board of Directors and Communication department involved with shareholders and investors
- Transparency vis-à-vis the financial markets
- Compliance with the applicable legal rules, especially those concerning market abuse, significant events or insider information, in accordance with the Stock Market regulations in force

7.1.5. Investor and shareholder relations

The communication policy sets out the following communication channels. which are available to both analysts and investors:

- CNMV
- Corporate website (www.atresmediacorporacion.com)
- Shareholder Office (oficinadelaccionista@atresmedia.com)
- Investor Relations department (ir@atresmedia.com)

In 2017, the Investor Relations department took part in 32 conferences and roadshows in London, Frankfurt, Geneva, Milan, New York, Boston, Montreal, Barcelona, Cascais, Bilbao and Paris. .

On top of these travelling events, it remained in direct and permanent contact with analysts and investors by arranging meetings, breakfasts and telephone chats. All in all, the department was in contact with the financial community on over 800 occasions during the year.

To raise awareness of the Group's business model and unlock the value of its business, Atresmedia regularly stages events for analysts and investors. At these events, the head of one or other of the Company's divisions or departments discusses the main business variables and responds to questions and doubts raised by those in attendance.

The most popular subjects of discussion with the financial community include:

| Performance of the advertising market for both television and other media (month to month, and outlook for 2018)                                    | Although monthly market data does not qualify as official data, Atresmedia still checks the data for signs of changing trends and patterns within the media sector. Official data are published quarterly and are provided by two main external sources: Infoadex and Arce.  In early 2017, the market is offered advertising growth "guidance" for the period. However, visibility remains extremely poor, at no more than two or three weeks. As the year progresses, quarterly data will gradually shed more light on the situation and growth guidance can be modified accordingly.  |
|---|--|
| Quarterly performance of investment in advertising by advertiser sector   | The automotive, health and beverages sectors were consistently the biggest investors in advertising during 2017, as shown by the quarterly figures. Telecom companies, while buying slightly less advertising time in the first quarter, remained committed to their campaigns during the following three quarters of the year. Meanwhile, the hygiene and beauty sector reversed the trend seen in the first three quarters (falling levels of investment) to close out the year with 1% growth.  |
| Impact that new technologies and new ways of watching television are having on traditional TV figures and relationship to investment in advertising | Consumption of audiovisual content on platforms other than traditional television has had a significant impact on linear television consumption. Nonetheless, market figures reveal that while live television is loosing minutes, non-linear television has been rallying.  If television consumption drops, the format will lose audience coverage. However, at Atresmedia the drop in coverage due to lower television consumption has been offset by an increase in advertising occupancy and in prices. On balance, investment in TV advertising has not been adversely affected in either absolute or relative terms. Television remains the most effective format and offers the best coverage when advertising products and brand names. |
| Penetration of pay TVand OTT. The Company'spositioning in the digitalworld  | While it is certainly true that the market penetration of pay television has climbed from 23.1% to 34% in the last four years, the share of the audience of pay channels has failed to surpass 8%, whereas traditional television accounts for 92%, showing that linear television coverage is still far higher than the coverage of OTT platforms.  |

7.2. To our employees

The Atresmedia Group knows full well that people management is what truly sets a company apart from its peers over time. This is achieved by reconciling and harmonising the Company's own interests with those of its employees. Atresmedia has a Human Resources Policy in place that sets out the values, principles and commitments guiding and shaping the Group's strategy when managing its human resources.

The following objectives and actions show the success of these commitments:

| OBJECTIVES OF THE HUMAN RESOURCES STRATEGY                          | ACTIONS SHOWING THE SUCCESS OF THE STRATEGY  |
|---|--|
| Guaranteeing quality employment                                     | 79.22% of contracts are permanent.   |
| Championing equality, diversity and reconciliation                  | Of Atresmedia's total workforce, 49.55% are men and 50.45% women -1,035 and 1,054, respectively-, while 43 individuals have some kind of disability. |
| Training and enabling the professional development of its workforce | In 2017, a total of 641,473 euros was invested in training.  |
| Making the Group's know-how available to future employees           | Consolidating the Atresmedia Formación model.  |
| Fostering corporate volunteering                                    | A total of 211 employees took part in the Group's corporate volunteering initiatives in 2017.  |
| Looking out for the health and safety of employees                  | A total of 1,338 hours of training in OHS were delivered in 2017.  |

The following values underpin the human resources strategy at Atresmedia:

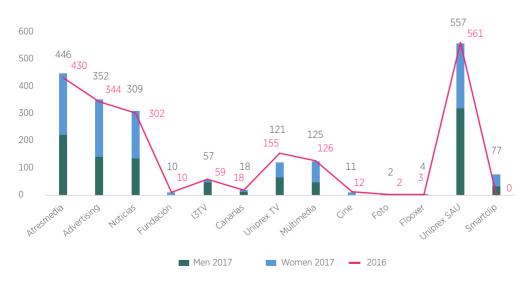

The Randstad Employer Brand Research 2017 report has named Atresmedia the most appealing company to work at within the media group sector for the fifth straight year, revealing the soundness and success of its strategy. The same report also names the Company as the seventh most appealing company in Spain among all companies and ranks it number 1 within the stimulating work category.

7.2.1. The human team at Atresmedia

In 2017, Atresmedia had a total headcount of 2,089 employees, with an average age of 42.32. The workforce is distributed among the different companies belonging to the Atresmedia Group, as shown below.

Workforce distribution by gender 2017 and change vs. 2016

Distribution by job category and gender

Average employee age by Group company

Average length of service at the Group was 12.53 years (12.2 years in 2016). Broken down by Group company, length of service was as follows:

|       | Averag     | je lengt    | h of ser | vice      |       |          |            |            |       |      |         |             |           |

As a show of its commitment to diversity, Atresmedia employed 43 people with different kinds of disability in 2017 (42 in 2016) and also signed a collaboration agreement with Fundación Down Madrid, enabling people with Down Syndrome to find work at Atresmedia. The distribution of disabled individuals across the Group's different companies was as follows:

|                  | Disabled   | l people    |          |           |      |            |            |             |           |       |

In 2017, the voluntary employee turnover rate was 5.5%, slightly higher than in 2016.

Of these new hires, 140 were women, who accounted for 53.85% of the total. In 2016, 48.2% of new hires went to female candidates.

By type of contract, 79.22% of employees now have a permanent contract of employment, slightly down on the figure reported in previous years: 76.5% in 2016 and 78% in 2015. Distribution by Group company in 2017 was as follows:

7.2.2. Employment relationships that benefit everyone (GRI 102-41)

Atresmedia upholds the right of its workers to be represented, as shown by the 1,817 workers who are adhered to a collective bargaining agreement, as shown below. This figure means that 86.98% of workers are adhered to a collective agreement, somewhat higher than in 2016 (86.6%) and 2015 (85.5%). The distribution of employees party to a collective agreement by Group company in 2017 was as follows:

|               | Employees adhered to collective agreements |             |          |           |      |          |            |            |      |      |         |             |           |       |
|---------------|--|-------------|----------|-----------|------|----------|------------|------------|------|------|---------|-------------|-----------|-------|

| No. of people | 353  | 296         | 279      | 9         | 50   | 17       | 120        | 116        | 11   | 2    | 4       | 490         | 70        | 1,817 |

One of the main milestones in 2017 was the signing of the Atresmedia Corporation Collective Bargaining Agreement, which not only governs remuneration but also matters relating to work-life balance, shorter, more compact working days in summer and other aspects such as:

- Extending the flexible start time system: 09:00 to 10:30.
- · Reactivating the teleworking committee and bringing it outside the scope of the collective agreement.
- Pilot testing at a number of management divisions in 2017.
- · Extending the arrangement to four days of paid leave following the death or serious illness of first-degree family members (with compassion also shown in the case of siblings) and to six days if the affected employee must travel.
- Workers with dependent children who have been found by the courts to be the victim of gender-based violence will be entitled to a reduction in their working hours of up to one hour a day over eighteen months, without this affecting their salary.

7.2.3. Training and professional development

Training is part and parcel of the strategy pursued by Human Resources at Atresmedia. The two core objectives of the Company's training strategy are firstly to develop and hone the talent of each person at the Group, and secondly to update and refresh knowledge and expertise so that Atresmedia employees are fully capable of carrying out their daily work at Atresmedia while keeping up with a changing sector and the challenges in store.

|                                     | 2015    | 2016    | 2017    |
|-------------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|
| Training hours per employee         | 26.2    | 22.1    | 41.9    |
| Employees trained                   | 1,175   | 1,974   | 1,076   |
| Investment in training              | 406,095 | 727,308 | 641,473 |
| Hours of training/managers          | 60      | 47      | 60      |
| Hours of training/technical staff   | 23      | 19      | 38      |
| Hours of training/back office staff | 18      | 17      | 33      |
| Hours of training/other             | 17      | 16      | 37      |
| Internships                         | 340     | 410     | 468     |

In 2017, Atresmedia invested a total of 641,473 euros in training its workforce, giving an average of 596 euros for each of the 1,076 employees trained during the year. Group employees received an average of 41.9 hours of training, varying slightly by job category. Managers received an average of 60 hours, technical staff 38 hours, back office staff 33 hours and other categories 37 hours. In 2017, the number of training hours per employee climbed sharply due to the increase in the number of course delivered, with each trained employee receiving two or more training courses in the year.

Investment in training (euros)

Training needs in 2017 were met through a total of 471 courses, 31 of which were new additions to the existing range of courses. These courses involved a total of 44,593 training hours (43,593 hours in 2016), distributed among the following knowledge areas:

Training hours by subject

Average course satisfaction among employees exceeded 8.5/10

On top of its traditional training scheme, Atresmedia has organised a Masters in Audiovisual Business Administration in partnership with the EAE Business School, so as to give its employees the necessary knowledge of the environment in which they work. The second edition of this Masters programme ended in 2017, having trained a total of 100 Group employees.

Meanwhile, Atresmedia trains its management team by focusing on management skills such as leadership, creative intelligence, intrapreneurial and innovative attitude, and digital skills. These face-to-face courses encourage executives from the different companies to interact, brainstorm and share their suggestions with Human Resources. A total of 166 executives took part in this training programme in 2017.

Atresmedia Formación: developing existing talent while training future generations

In addition to training its current workforce, Atresmedia is fully committed to the future of the sector and to training future generations of employees. Atresmedia Formación embodies the Company's commitment to becoming the leader and benchmark within Spain when it comes to training in audiovisual subject matter and communication.

The initiative, created in 2016, provides a whole suite of specialist training experiences tailored to the actual needs of audiovisual communication companies. Atresmedia Formación is intended for companies operating in the sector, as well as universities, foundations and any person looking to work in the audiovisuals sector. With over 400 courses, the training initiative is eminently practical, focusing on the most sought after skills within the sector, such as communication, digital marketing and new audiovisual technologies. To ensure a successful training experience, the trainers are all prominent professionals from the sector in their chosen subject.

The catalogue of Atresmedia Formación extends to vocational training. Here, two new courses were launched in 2017: Production and Realisation together with the Vocational Training Institute of Grupo Planeta, and the postgraduate diploma in partnership with EAE Business School and Universidad Antonio de Nebrija.

Moreover, Atresmedia Formación has partnership agreements in effect with Fundación Cajasol (Seville), Fundación Araguaney (Santiago de Compostela), Universidad Pontifica de Salamanca, Asociación de la Prensa de Madrid, INAEM in Aragón, Boomerang, Secuoya, AMC, the regional government of Castilla La Mancha and Semana. It is also near to concluding an agreement with SANOFI and the Galician Health Service.

Project Th'nk: support for exciting new ideas

Th'nk is an internal innovation group created by Atresmedia's own employees and backed by the management. It is intended as a work space for those Atresmedia professionals we might call intrapreneurs, giving them inspiration and allowing them to communicate freely. The project turned five on 5 October and has the support of 80% of Group employees, who see it as an innovative and positive venture. In 2017, Th'nk developed its three lines of action through a range of different activities:

Th'nk: intrapreneurship at Atresmedia

Th'nk Inspira

Motivational conferences and training delivered by experts

300 participants

Th'nk Innova

Brainstorming contest to turn employee creativity into innovation

15 ideas short-listed

Th'nk Crea

Driver of ideas generated through Th'nk, which makes them a reality

3 winning ideas

The year marked the end of the Th'nk Innova competition, in which upwards of 400 employees contributed over 800 ideas. Judging the entries on their originality, scope, realisation, return and diversity, a panel comprising Atresmedia employees proceeded to short-list 15 innovative ideas and went on to name three winners.

- Opportunities category: "Neox Discover". Multimedia platform in which budding musicians play their own songs.
- Efficiency category: "Nos movemos con el sol" ("Moving with the sun") The idea behind this project is to replace Atresmedia's existing vehicle fleet with electric cars.
- People category: "Oportunidades al talento" ("Give talent a chance") Under this innovative project, Atresmedia and its media partners can swap professionals with the aim of developing talent and learning other processes and business models.

Th'nk Crea has promised to conduct a pilot test for all three winning entries. Atresmedia successfully implemented the "Oportunidades al talento" initiative in 2017 through a partnership agreement with RTL Group. The two projects in the category of Opportunities and Efficiency will be rolled out in 2018, along with the short-listed projects, which will be added to an ideas bank for possible implementation down the line.

7.2.4. Committed to young talent

Judging by the results of the Most Attractive Employers 2017 study, Atresmedia is the number one choice for university students when it comes to finding work in the Spanish media sector.

Although the job market has picked up in recent months, Atresmedia remains firmly committed to employing young talent and providing job opportunities for students. A key initiative here is its hugely successful Internship Programme, which in 2017 offered placements to 468 students undergoing vocational training, or university or postgraduate studies. A total of 33 of these students were eventually offered jobs at the Company.

> A total of 33 talented young individuals were hired on completing their internship at Atresmedia.

In 2017, Atresmedia continued its ongoing partnership with the Madrid Press Association (Asociación de la Prensa de Madrid, or APM for short) in two realms: the Internship Plan, and its support for the First Job Programme, which allows a degree holder registered with the APM to complete a one-year work placement at a Group company, such as Antena 3 Noticias or Onda Cero.

> Through training projects such as Proyecto Mañana and Atresmedia Formación, the Group has been raising levels of media literacy among the population by bringing media activity and knowledge closer to society.

Atresmedia has also been pursuing its Proyecto Mañana (Project Tomorrow) initiative in a bid to find young talent and make its programmes more innovative. The project places university students in contact with companies and is ultimately intended to champion research and investigation projects that seek to develop the creativity and talent of students in audiovisual communication. The working groups present their projects to Atresmedia's management team, targeting all formats and platforms: television, radio and the Internet. They can earn a cash prize and also an internship at one of the Group's divisions intended for students. In 2017, the prize went to a team of students pursuing a degree in Audiovisual Communication at the Autonomous University of Barcelona, who presented two projects consisting of a television contest and a docu-reality.

7.2.5. Internal communication

Atresmedia knows full well that to reconcile the goals of the company and its employees it needs to ensure constant two-way dialogue with its employees.

> To achieve fluid and constructive dialogue with employees, Atresmedia has set up the following channels of communication: the onboarding manual, which is handed to all employees on joining the Group, the MASD3 digital magazine and the Corporate Intranet.

MASD3 is Atresmedia's monthly digital magazine. It is sent out to all Group employees in a bid to improve levels of engagement, inform them of the main milestones reached by the Company and showcase the results achieved by all departments and divisions. Over 20 professionals from different areas and fields of expertise contribute to MD3. MASD3 reported upwards of 3,000 single users in 2017 (3,103), with over 110,000 pages viewed (116,236) in the year. In April, the magazine celebrated its fifth anniversary with a special hard copy edition featuring the year's biggest milestones. It also published its fiftieth edition in 2017.

Atresmedia is currently developing its new Intranet, which is due to be launched in 2018. Representatives from all areas of the Group took part in co-creation events, which ultimately resulted in a brand new prototype for the tool. The aim is to make internal communication more agile and efficient, while making the platform a cornerstone of the Group's new communication strategy.

7.2.6. Employee benefits

Atresmedia employees enjoy a number of additional benefits and in-kind remuneration to supplement their annual salary.

7.2.7. Committed to equality, diversity and work-life balance

Atresmedia signed an Equality Plan in 2014, which pursues the following objectives:

- Ensuring equal treatment and equal opportunities
- Improving the work-life balance of employees
- Preventing harassment at the workplace
- · Support for pregnant workers and motherhood

The equality measures envisaged in the Equality Plan were further enhanced in 2017 with the signing of a new collective bargaining agreement. For more information, see Employment relationships.

The Equality Plan has its own committee, which meets regularly to monitor compliance and approve new actions to improve equality.

Atresmedia's commitment to equality is reflected in its workforce, which currently comprises 49.55% women and 50.45% men.

The Group also has a special awareness of women who have been the victim of gender-based violence and attempts to employ them wherever possible by collaborating since 2015 with the Internship Programme of Fundación Integra. In 2017, Atresmedia offered three grants and unpaid work placements at the Company to support these women.

7.2.8. Occupational health and safety

Atresmedia's Occupational Health and Safety Management System earned OHSAS 18001 assurance in 2017. The Group has two Health and Safety Committees; one at Atresmedia and the other at Uniprex. These committees have met four times and members are duly informed of all progress made (risk assessment, objectives and recruitments through temporary employment agencies).

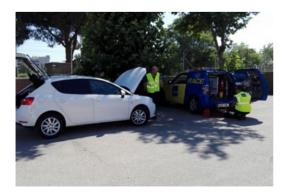

The following actions were undertaken in 2017 in furtherance of the Prevention Plan:

- · Assessment of occupational risks and ambient conditions at the various work
- Training and information on occupational risk prevention given to 739 individuals.
- A total of 103 safety inspections of installations, studios and suppliers.
- Investigations conducted of all 58 accidents (with and without medical leave) to have occurred during the year, as well as the seven incidents.

The Department of Prevention and Medical Services is headed by Dr Bartolomé Beltrán, who in 2017 was awarded the Medal of Honour for his work in occupational health and safety. Meanwhile, the Atresmedia Group was handed the Escolástico Zaldívar Award by FRATERNIDAD MUPRESPA in the large companies category for its commitment to occupational risk prevention and for having shown that it has gone beyond its legal requirements and taken further steps to improve the health and safety of its workers.

The division carried out the following actions in 2017:

- Earning OHSAS 18001 assurance for its occupational health and safety management system.
- Conducting a statutory audit of its occupational health and safety management system.
- · Staging the II Road Safety Week at Atresmedia.
- Raising awareness of eye health through a specific company.
- · Training the Management Committee in the new Corporate Health and Safety Policy under the OHSAS 18001 standard.

In 2017, there were a total of seven accidents involving medical leave. The employee absenteeism rate stood at 2.86 (ratio of medical leave due to occupational accident or temporary incapacity to total hours worked), while the ratio for non work-related illness was 2.72, the accident frequency ratio was 1.99 and the serious injury ratio was 0.06.

|   | 2015 | 2016 | 2017 |
|---|------|------|------|
| No. of accidents involving medical leave          | 9    | 10   | 7    |
| Employee absenteeism                              | 2.53 | 2.42 | 2.86 |
| Employee absenteeism for non work-related illness | 2.46 | 2.36 | 2.72 |
| Accident frequency rate                           | 2.7  | 2.8  | 1.99 |
| Serious accident frequency rate                   | 0.06 | 0.05 | 0.06 |

7.3. To society

Atresmedia is fully aware of the media's impact on society. It therefore offers society its wealth of broadcasting expertise in a bid to change society for the better. This commitment is embodied in its General Corporate Responsibility Policy. The Group relies on its different channels and broadcasters to show interesting content that matters to society, while rolling out its own initiatives to bring about positive social changes and forging alliances with entities and NGOs so that together we can build a fairer and more equitable society.

7.3.1. Contribution to the SDGs

The 17 Sustainable Development Goals approved by the United Nations in 2015 call on companies across the world to adopt measures to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure peace and prosperity for all.

Atresmedia is aware of the huge role companies have to play in accomplishing these crucial goals. It therefore uses its policies, initiatives and outreach to push towards the SDGs described below, in which the Group is confident it can have a particularly positive impact.

On top of its commitment to the Sustainable Development Goals, Atresmedia has been attached to the UN Global Compact Network Spain since 2008, as an expression of its commitment to the 10 principles enshrined in the framework, which include respect for human rights, labour, the environment and anticorruption.

7.3.2 Awareness initiatives

Atresmedia has been working for more than a decade on initiatives with a deep social impact from two fronts: raising social awareness thanks to its outreach as a media broadcaster; and action articulated through its six own projects, each of which aspires to solve a social problem or issue: road safety with Ponle Freno (2008); the environment with Hazte Eco (2010) (for more information, see Environmental awareness); a healthy life with Objetivo Bienestar (March 2014); defending cultural invention and intellectual property with Crea Cultura (September 2014); support for scientific research and preventive medicine and healthcare with Constantes y Vitales (October 2014); and fighting against gender-based violence alongside Tolerancia Cero (November 2015).

> Following the launch of Ponle Freno, every step we take is a reflection of Atresmedia's commitment to society and the community: the aim is for every initiative of ours to bring about some kind of transformation, meaning real change that has a direct and positive impact on society.

Atresmedia strongly believes that the media has the power to transform society for the better. This conviction was institutionalised in 2014, when the Group created Compromiso Atresmedia (Atresmedia Commitment), an umbrella platform under which the Group carries out all its corporate responsibility projects and showcases them through television, radio and its digital platforms. To ensure the Group practises what it preaches, all these initiatives are also reflected internally through actions to promote road safety, healthy habits and environmental awareness among Group employees.

In 2017, Atresmedia's television channels dedicated a total of 1,599 broadcasts to promoting and raising awareness of its Atresmedia Commitment brand. Together these showings attracted 34,053,000 viewers, covering 80% of the Spanish population.

In 2017, Ponle Freno continued with its traditional yearly events and initiatives, which included its awards and the PONLE FRENO race track.

This year the IX Ponle Freno Awards went to nearly one hundred projects and ideas in the following categories:

- Ponle Freno Citizen Award: Manuel Antiller (awarded posthumously). School bus driver who saved children's lives while he suffered a heart attack.
- AXA Award for Innovation and Development in Road Safety: automatic tyreinflation device developed by the University of La Rioja.
- Ponle Freno Junior Award. Programme to provide safe and sustainable mobility called "Puente Genil EDUCA", by the Town Council of Puente Genil (Córdoba).
- Ponle Freno Award for Best Road Safety Action. Projects to raise awareness among young drivers: Trendy Driver and Crash Attack for Michelin.
- Ponle Freno Award for Best Employee Road Safety Action: Transnational Road Safety Plan by GAS NATURAL FENOSA.

Ponle Freno's public charity runs have been running for nine years in Madrid and for four years in Vitoria. This year they were staged for the first time in Pontevedra, Palma de Mallorca and Las Palmas de Gran Canaria. In 2017, the PONLE FRENO race track raised a total of 178,032.37 euros, all of which was used to support the victims of road accidents.

Ponle Freno also took part in the I Forum to Promote Road Safety Education at the Spanish Congress of Deputies. The forum is organised and overseen by the Parliamentary Road Safety Committee. Meanwhile, a number of campaigns were rolled out to raise awareness of the effects of medicine on our ability to drive (Al volante ningún efecto es secundario); to make drivers more respectful of cyclists (Metro y Medio), to warn against the use of mobile phones while driving (¿Lo coges?); calling for the compulsory use of vehicle restraint systems for children; to improve safety during holiday periods when road traffic is at its peak; and to warn of the effects of alcohol and drugs when at the wheel.

Atresmedia's commitment to road safety also extends to employees. In 2017, the Group held its second Road Safety Education Week with the aim of training employees and raising their awareness of the issue.

For the third straight year, Constantes y Vitales, a joint initiative of laSexta and Fundación AXA, handed out its Constantes y Vitales Awards in 2017, which went to:

- Award for the best preventive healthcare promotional campaign: La Roche-Posay / L'Orèal España for their 'Skinchecker' prevention and awareness campaign.
- Award for the year's best biomedical research project: Dr Marisol Soengas, of the National Centre for Oncological Research (Centro Nacional de Investigaciones Oncológicas, or CNIO) in Madrid, for her project titled "Whole-body imaging of lymphovascular niches identifies pre-metastatic roles of midkine".
- Award for Young Talent in Biomedical Research: Dr Arkaitz Carracedo Pérez. principal investigator at CIC bioGUNE Center for Cooperative Research in Biosciences in Bizkaia, for his research into the biology of cancer, and Dr. David Sancho Madrid, of Fundación Centro Nacional de Investigaciones Cardiovasculares Carlos III, for his research in the field of immunology. This category awarded 100,000 euros ex aeguo.
- · Scientific Career Award: Dr. Gabriela Morreale de Castro, scientist and chemist, for her numerous contributions in the field of endocrinology.

In 2017, the initiative continued to lobby authorities to install defibrillators in public places and convinced Asturias, Madrid and Valencia to become cardiacprotected regions. It also signed a collaboration agreement with the Spanish Cardiology Society (Sociedad Española de Cardiología) and with the Spanish Red Cross (Cruz Roja) in a bid to make more regions cardiac-protected.

Meanwhile, under the motto "Cosas que te dejan sin aliento" ("Things that leave you breathless"), Constantes y Vitales launched a campaign to raise awareness of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD).

On occasion of World Cancer Day, Constantes y Vitales staged the 'Presente y Futuro de la Investigación del Cáncer' event ('Present and Future of Cancer Research'), alongside Fundación Axa and Centro Nacional de Investigaciones Oncológicas (CNIO). The event featured a keynote address by Nobel Laureate in Medicine, Harald zur Hausen, under the title 'Outlook for the prevention of cancer and chronic diseases'.

Other key actions in 2017

Hip fracture prevention campaign.

Partnership agreement with Fundación Española para la Ciencia y la Tecnología to promote research projects via Precipita's website (www.precipita.es).

Campaign to prevent head and neck cancer.

Increasing female representation in the field of science: nominating three women to the Expert Committee.

Support for research on laSexta: the news and educational programmes shown by laSexta have showcased the work of Spanish scientists through special news coverage and raised awareness of numerous research and preventive medicine initiatives.

Constantes y Vitales was named "Best Action in Communication" by Consejo Español de CRP (Spanish Council for Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation). It was also voted "Social Healthcare Personality of the Year" at the Neuromadrid Awards and received a Gold Badge from Sociedad Española de Neumología y Cirugía Torácica (Spanish Society of Pneumology and Thoracic Surgery).

7.3.2.4. Crea Cultura in 2017

In 2017, Crea Cultura continued to promote the Está en tu mano (It's in your hands) campaign to raise awareness of the value and worth of cultural creation and respect for intellectual property. In January, it signed a partnership agreement with FNAC to promote cultural outreach through various actions and initiatives, including a series of seven music and film gatherings held at FNAC to talk about the music featuring in films in which Atresmedia has been involved. Meanwhile, the following three Crea Cultura Forums were held in 2017:

- The 'ghostbusters' of digital piracy. Hunting down pirates who prey on the rightful creators and owners of films, music and books
- Piracy at the cinema: how to protect a cultural industry at threat
- Will blockchain save creators? Learn everything about what this fourth industrial revolution will mean for culture and the media

To mark the occasion of Intellectual Property Day, a number of special bumpers were aired to pay tribute to inventors and an internal awareness action was carried out among Atresmedia employees.

Other key actions in 2017

Graffiti competition to paint one of the walls of Atresmedia's headquarters.

Sponsor of the Foro Edita forum of the Editors Guild.

Campaign on the responsible use of new technologies in cultural consumption.

Involvement in the I Inter-University Debate Tournament for the region of Madrid.

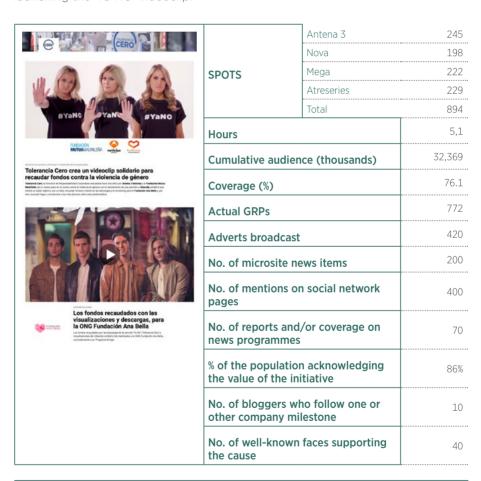

Support for the Ministry of Education's No piratees tu futuro (Don't pirate your future) campaign.

Promoting the Leemos (Let's read) child reading campaign by Fundación Telefónica and Fundación José Manuel Lara.

7.3.2.5. Tolerancia Cero in 2017

In 2017, Antena 3 Noticias and Fundación Mutua Madrileña joined forced on occasion of the international day for the elimination of violence against women to give new impetus to the Tolerancia Cero (Zero Tolerance) campaign. So far the initiative has focused on raising public awareness of four key concerns relating to domestic violence: social rejection of the abuser, everyday male chauvinism, educating children on how to maintain healthy relationships and launching the 'Ya NO' videoclip.

Other key actions in 2017

Campaign to ensure social rejection of abusers.

Campaign against common everyday expressions of male chauvinism.

Child education to help prevent violent conduct down the line.

Ya NO videoclip. The funds raised from videoclip downloads were given to Fundación Ana Bella, which provides support to female victims of gender-based violence.

Atresmedia and the Spanish Red Cross joined forced in 2017 to raise awareness of the humanitarian crisis arising from attacks on patients, health workers and healthcare facilities in war zones. The situation is now critical as these attacks have been on the increase in recent years. Thanks to Antena 3 series Tiempos de Guerra, the campaign enjoyed considerable exposure and had a major social impact.

7.3.3. Accessibility

One of the Group's priority objectives under its Corporate Responsibility Policy is to ensure that its news and educational programmes and entertainment shows are responsibly produced and broadcast and made accessible to all of society. Atresmedia Televisión therefore makes sure that all viewers, including the hearing- and visually-impaired, are able to access and enjoy all of its television content.

> In 2017, Atresmedia increased its investment in content accessibility by 2.7% in comparison with 2016.

The laws of Spain, and more specifically the General Audiovisual Communication Act, protect the rights of the visually- and hearing-impaired. The Act imposes a number of minimum obligations: subtitling content and including an audio description for at least two hours of broadcasts per week. Compliance is monitored and enforced by the National Markets and Competition Commission (CNMC). In its latest report, it praised the efforts being made by Atresmedia, which has been outperforming its peers in Spain.

When it comes to accessibility, Atresmedia is working on two fronts: subtitling, audio descriptions and traditional sign language, and the use of new online platforms to allow easier access to content.

Atresmedia made the following content accessible to all audiences in 2017, by type of adaptation:

|                              |               | 2015     | 2016     | 2017     |
|------------------------------|---------------|----------|----------|----------|
| Subtitling for the deaf -    | Hours         | 26,054.8 | 36,155.9 | 37,285.5 |
| Atresmedia Group             | % to 24 hours | 78.65    | 80.18    | 82       |
| Number of hours of sign lang | uage          | 717.5    | 997.3    | 1,032.5  |
| Number of hours of audio des | scription     | 910.4    | 1,255.3  | 1,401.8  |

Milestones in 2017

The news teams of Antena 3 and laSexta send the cue sheets to the live subtitling team as far in advance as possible, thus shortening the delay in the subtitle text appearing on screen and ultimately improving the quality of live subtitling.

Subtitling of live programmes has been extended in the case of El Hormiguero 3.0, laSexta Noche and El Chirinquito de Jugones.

The quality of subtitling for all live news and current affairs shows has been improved in order to make all public service events accessible to all viewers.

Atresmedia offered over 600 hours of subtitled on-demand content in 2017 (available on its online platforms).

7.3.4. Child protection

Atresmedia has undertaken to protect children from two different angles as part of its Corporate Responsibility Policy:

- · Producing and broadcasting responsible news and entertainment content so as to protect the most vulnerable audiences, notably children.
- · Promoting honest and ethical advertising that protects viewers, especially children.

Responsible news content and entertainment

Atresmedia Televisión has children strongly in mind when choosing what to broadcast on television. It has been a signatory to the Code for the Self-Regulation of Child-Oriented Television Content, a voluntary standard for companies wishing to make a difference. Atresmedia also sits on the code's Joint Monitoring Committee, which sees to it that the code is followed.

The Self-Regulation Committee and the Joint Monitoring Committee analyse all complaints received every four months. In 2017, a total of 80 complaints were received against all the operators adhered to the code. Of these, two were upheld as constituting unsuitable content, although none of those was ever broadcast by Atresmedia.

To ensure these commitments are applied throughout the entire content creation process and meet the required standards of quality and responsibility, Atresmedia has set up a Content Committee, a corporate Code of Conduct and a Code of Ethics for its news services.

Turning to digital platforms, work continued in 2017 on improving the visibility of age classifications for content available on Atresplayer. A pilot project was also launched on Flooxer to identify content classified as being suitable for 18 and over and to make such content available only once the viewer has entered an age of 18 or above.

A total of 1,611 hours of children's programmes were broadcast in 2017, as shown helow:

|             |                | 2016  | 2017  |
|-------------|----------------|-------|-------|
|             | Neox Kidz      | 1,635 | 1,490 |

Child-friendly advertising content

Atresmedia Publicidad aims to offer advertising that is suitable for all ages, focusing in particular on younger audiences. In its Responsible Advertising Policy, Atresmedia Publicidad promises to take special care when placing advertising products on content aimed at young audiences and it independently markets time slots whose programmes are intended for children.

The legally prescribed special watershed for the most vulnerable audiences is rigorously observed across all channels and has even been extended in certain cases, such as on the Neox channel. The Group has extended the special watershed on Neox, a channel that shows Neox Kidz children's programmes. Meanwhile, for specialist children's channel Neox Kidz, advertisers have a multiplatform environment with specific content suitable for children aged 0 to 11, in which they can insert age-appropriate advertising messages.

> Special watershed for ATRES AFINIDAD channels (LaSexta, Neox):

Monday to Friday: from 08:00 to 09:00 and from 17:00 to 20:00

Weekends and public holidays: 09:00 to 12:00 noon On NEOX, children's time slots are protected and the so-called pauta única approach (where all channels cut to adverts at the same time) is not applied

7.3.5. Social interest contents

Through its Corporate Responsibility Policy, Atresmedia contributes towards social development and progress by raising public awareness of pressing issues and concerns. Atresmedia attempts not only to show society as it is, but to help bring about positive social change through the content it broadcasts.

Keeping audiences duly informed of news and other matters that affect them Atresmedia Televisión, Radio and Digital Atresmedia Publicidad Covering events Showing special and issues of programmes on Supporting social projects by offering public and social worthy causes to advertising time support NGOs interest

The objectives

The means

Both domestic and international events were widely covered in 2017 across the Group's various channels as the Group seeks to inform and educate the population, and special news content was also broadcast outside of the standard programming. This additional programming was largely intended to cover major events and occurrences that merited special media exposure, such as the Asunta Basterra case, Catalonia's bid for independence, the PSOE's federal congress, the June vote of no confidence in Rajoy's government, and the terrorist attacks that unfolded in Catalonia in August. As well as covering current events. Atresmedia's television channels and radio stations also raise awareness and bring society closer to more widespread social issues. The main topics covered in 2017 are discussed in the sections on Awareness initiatives and Contribution to the SDGs.

Supporting worthy causes and bringing them closer to society is also an integral part of Atresmedia's remit as a media broadcaster. This commitment is embodied in two main lines of action: broadcasting special programmes to promote worthy causes and actions and giving free advertising slots to NGOs. Atresmedia also donated a total of 127,048 euros to NGOs in 2017, mainly through two of its most popular shows, namely Tu cara me suena and La ruleta de la suerte.

Meanwhile, donations in kind (free advertising slots to promote the campaigns of non-profit organisations) brought in a total of 12,821,875 euros, which is the opportunity cost of broadcasting pro-bono advertising as opposed to paid advertising. A total of 26 NGOs benefited from these donations in 2017.

Our advertisers' community commitment

Atresmedia Publicidad involves its advertisers in the Company's different corporate responsibility initiatives, so that both the advertiser and Atresmedia are able to align their social and strategic values when it comes to CR by collaborating on these initiatives. The resulting synergies between Atresmedia and its advertisers give the initiatives added impact and make them sustainable, long-running initiatives that help transform society. Highlight collaborations in 2017 included:

Ponle Freno

Fundación Axa: in May 2013, this partnership gave rise to the Ponle Freno-AXA Road Safety Education Centre, Since its inception, the centre has published numerous reports on road accidents and driving habits and has launched various public awareness campaigns. The centre pursues the same goals as those set out on the Ponle Freno manifesto: '2020 Zero Victims'.

Anfabra: Anfabra (Spanish Soft Drinks Association) and Ponle Freno are doing their bit to combat drowsiness at the wheel, one of the biggest causes of accidents.

Contantes y Vitales

Fundación Axa: among other key initiatives, the association has conceived the 'Constantes y Vitales' Awards for Biomedical Research and Preventive Healthcare. The awards have now been held on two occasions and seek to strengthen, showcase, support and improve the valuable research being undertaken by Spanish scientists, while rewarding preventive healthcare actions. Atresmedia and Fundación AXA have renewed their partnership and will continue working together through to 2020, making it an eight-year venture on the following two fronts: Ponle Freno and Constantes y Vitales.

Tolerancia Cero

Fundación Mutua Madrileña: Tolerancia Cero is the brainchild of Antena 3 Noticias and Fundación Mutua Madrileña and has been named an outstanding project by the Spanish Observatory against Domestic and Gender-based Violence. The alliance with Atresmedia is a product of the work that Fundación Mutua Madrileña has been undertaking on this subject since 2013, when it set up a specific unit tasked with combating gender-based violence and encouraging society to reject and outcast abusers.

Grandes Profes

Samsung: Samsung is firmly committed to education and views technology as a valuable tool for teaching and learning.

Santillana: the publisher is helping people develop their potential through education, specifically education delivered by teachers.

Obietivo Bienestar

Arprocan: Arprocan and Objetivo Bienestar are encouraging the public to eat more fruit since recent evidence shows that fruit consumption is on the decline. Thanks to a joint campaign that provides useful advice and other actions, the public is being made aware of the myths, benefits and uses of one of the most widely recognised fruits in our country.

7.3.6. Corporate volunteering

As part of its Human Resources strategy, Atresmedia has put an ambitious Corporate Volunteering Programme in place that envisions two main courses of

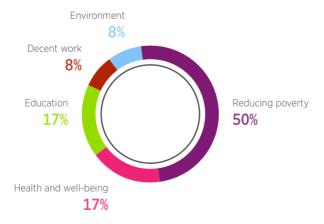

- Active collaboration on programmes: through its Corporate Volunteering Programme, the Group offers workers the chance to take part in various initiatives
- Participation at forums and events: the programme aims to promote and encourage volunteering through the Company's communication channels (television, radio and digital platforms), and by taking part in major forums such as Red Voluntare.

In 2017, 211 Atresmedia workers took part in one or other activity under the corporate volunteering programme, providing 2,325 hours of support between them. Total investment in volunteering in 2017 amounted to 17,427 euros.

The Company lent its support to the following causes:

As part of its drive to promote volunteering, Atresmedia joined forces with Spanish NGO Cooperación Internacional in staging the XI Corporate Solidarity Day in October 2017. The event was aimed at promoting corporate volunteering and raising awareness among the corporate world of the real problems and issues facing society. The event brought together over 1,000 volunteers from 47 companies across ten Spanish cities. For the third straight year, Atresmedia has been the media partner of the VI edition of the international volunteering event known as "Give and Gain Day" organised by Forética, which featured upwards of 1.200 volunteers. Atresmedia also lent its support to the #Companies4sdgs initiative, driven by the Global Compact and Volunteering and Strategy, with the aim of getting employees, companies and society involved in the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The Group has aligned its corporate volunteering strategy with the SDGs and has shown the campaign across all its channels, reaching some 60% of the population in 2017.

Volunteering programmes at Atresmedia focused on the following areas in 2017:

7.3.7. Fundación Atresmedia

Fundación Atresmedia was conceived in 2005 with the aim of channelling the social aid and support of the Atresmedia Group into two causes: protecting children and helping disabled people lead more normal lives by placing the Group's resources and capabilities at their disposal.

Our MISSION is

Looking after children and young people in situations of special need and creating public interest about their issues, needs and interests, relying for that on the skills and resources of the Atresmedia Group

Our VISION is

Being the Spanish foundation with the greatest capacity for social mobilisation and making real changes in the issues that affect children and young people.

Our VALUES

Transparency Positive spirit Commitment Empathy Efficiency

Funding model

The Atresmedia Group granted the foundation a total of 500,000 euros in 2017. Together with donations (132,956.69 euros) and other income (673,082.20 euros), this brought the foundation's total budget to 1,306,038.89 euros for the year. The foundation does not receive any state subsidy or aid. It donated a total of 48,055 euros in 2017.

Fundación Atresmedia received the following awards and accolades in 2017:

- AENOA Award for Advancing Education
- ConSalud.es Award for "Foundation of the Year"
- · Award from Fundación Corresponsables under the "Non-profit entities" category
- First runner-up prize at the Súper Cuidadores Awards
- Honourable Mention at the Best in Class (BIC) Awards

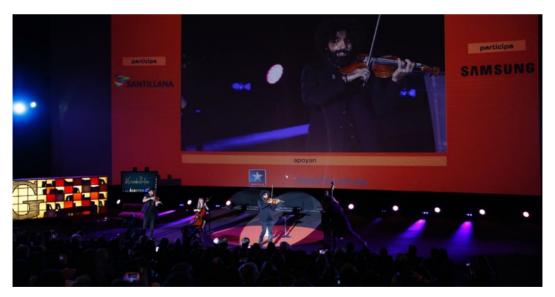

Fundación Atresmedia, as an independent Group entity, has its own strategy based on three strategic courses of action.

74 To our advertisers

Atresmedia's business model relies on revenue received from advertisers. To ensure that brands enjoy a successful commercial campaign on Atresmedia, the Group remains true to its guiding principles by offering innovative solutions while looking into how to maximise the impact and profitability of their appearances on air. It also insists on a set of shared social responsibility principles that both the Group and the brands must respect when showing adverts across the various channels and stations.

> In 2017, Atresmedia reported an advertising cost-to-income ratio of 1.56 across its various distribution channels. The advertising cost-to-income ratio means the ratio between share of investment (market share) and share of audience.

7.4.1. Responsible advertising

Atresmedia Publicidad aims to offer advertising that is suitable for all ages, focusing in particular on younger audiences, and that is also transparent, profitable and effective. This objective is embodied in the Company's Corporate Responsibility Policy and Code of Conduct.

Managing quality

To ensure that all commercial content aired by advertisers meets the quality and responsibility standards set by Atresmedia, the Group continues to improve its quality assurance process so as to achieve zero likelihood of error.

Atresmedia Publicidad requests copy advice for the spots and, if the copy shows any sign of infringing Atresmedia's responsible advertising principles, the advertiser concerned is made aware so it can then make the relevant changes and obtain a new copy that satisfies Atresmedia's broadcasting requirements. In 2017, the Advertising and Continuity departments continued to refine the implementation of a final filter to ensure compliance with rules and standards. The system draws attention to the conditions raised by the copy advice and does not allow a campaign to be broadcast if negative copy advice is given.

Copy advice was revised on a total of 1,257 occasions in 2017, while the number of legal consultations came to 132. Legal consultations occur when Atresmedia needs to discuss questions or doubts with the Legal Affairs department of Autocontrol in relation to the regulation or self-regulation of a piece of advertising content, or how it should be interpreted.

|                            | 2015 | 2016  | 2017  |
|----------------------------|------|-------|-------|
| Copy advice reviewed       | 876  | 1.028 | 1.257 |
| Legal consultations raised | 150  | 124   | 132   |

While Atresmedia Publicidad goes to extreme lengths to prevent any type of incidents from arising in its television advertising, two cases were brought against it in 2017, involving five violations and 613,464 euros in fines for improper television advertising. No fines were received in relation to any other platform.

|            | 2015    | 2016    | 2017    |
|------------|---------|---------|---------|
| Cases      | 5       | 3       | 2       |
| Violations | 14      | 6       | 5       |
| Fines      | 565,976 | 421,900 | 613,464 |

One of the actions under way to foster responsible advertising is the move to extend the special watershed on Neox, a channel that shows Neox Kidz children's programmes. Meanwhile, for specialist children's channel Neox Kidz, advertisers have a multi-platform environment with specific content suitable for children aged 0 to 11, in which they can insert age-appropriate advertising messages. Atresmedia is fully compliant with the special watersheds in place across all the main channels.

7.4.2. Return on investment

Revenue from television advertising was up 1% year on year in 2017 to make it five straight years of growth. This positive trend is down to the efforts to maintain the price Atresmedia implemented a few years back; a strategy the other main operators appear to be following.

> The return on investment for advertisers was unquestionably one of the drivers pushing the Atresmedia Group forward in 2017 and is largely explained by the synergies among the different media formats marketed by the Group.

During the year, 52.2% of the total investment in television advertising came from brands that rely on all three of the Group's platforms when advertising their products. This "multimedia" advertisers segment also accounts for 46.5% of the Group's Internet advertising revenue, and 47.5% of its revenue from radio advertising. For TV, multimedia advertisers represent 52.6% of the total.

7.4.3. Innovation in advertising

Innovation is one of the hallmarks of the Atresmedia Group and its driving force when keeping ahead of a television and advertising market in constant flux. Atresmedia Advertising continues to explore new and more efficient advertising tools and formats, while harnessing synergies with the Group's other divisions, which also rely heavily on innovation to optimise distribution channels so they can offer advertisers the best multimedia product.

AtresData

Launched in 2016, the AtresData tool provides a 360° view of television viewers by offering valuable information on television audiences, consumption and product purchases, together with consumer behaviours and life styles. AtresData allows advertisers to plan their campaigns in view of commercial targets and buying behaviours, thus doubling the ROI (return on investment) of traditional TV campaigns and earning 26% more new buyers than what they would achieve using demographic targets.

Since the first quarter of 2017, advertisers can use Cluster Atresmedia to align their advertising campaigns with their brand strategy. The tool centres the campaign on one of the five resulting "clusters" of consumers, which are grouped on the basis of their buying habits and attitude towards consumption and advertising.

Motion control

Atresmedia continued to innovate its telepromotions and sponsorships in 2017 by adding motion control technology. This innovative robotic system combines movement with augmented reality and gets around logistical problems such as getting large products onto television sets, or not having any physical elements with which to decorate the set. It even allows users to add aesthetic effects to displays and other resources.

Skin full video

Atresmedia has launched Skin Full Vídeo, a new highly visible and dynamic advertising format that instantly grabs the viewer's attention. A full-screen video without sound is placed in the background of a web page. Thanks to its clever positioning and size, it tempts users to expand it and activate the audio track. This new format has reported excellent results among the advertisers of Atresmedia's various sites

Contextual advertising

Atresmedia has launched a range of contextual advertising services to increase the impact of its advertising slots. Using this format, all spots within an advertising block are related in some way to specific days or events.

The association or linkage between the products being advertised and these days or events is strengthened further by broadcasting subject-specific bumpers leading into and closing out the advert break.

7.4.4. Effectiveness and impact

Atresmedia Publicidad is committed to its advertisers and helps ensure that their campaigns on Atresmedia have more of an impact than they would at other media groups. To achieve this goal, Atresmedia Publicidad invests in advertising research, resulting in its Principles of Effective Advertising.

Commandments of Effective Advertising

- 1 Increased sales is always a product of increased brand penetration and new buyers.
- Television advertising generates positive ROI for brands.
- By targeting advertisers that are genuinely interested in its products, Atresmedia is able to secure new buyers and improve the performance and success of their campaigns.
- Television is the most effective channel and offers the best return when it comes to brand awareness
- Regular investment in television in the long run not only increases brand awareness and advertising recall, but also purchase intention among consumers.
- Creativity is a key factor in improving the recall of advertising campaigns, because it increases the likelihood that viewers will remember the ad after seeing it just once.
- Special advertising is another key factor.
- Prime positioning during ad breaks and simulcast exclusive ads also help to increase advertising effectiveness and impact.
- The use of neuroscience techniques more than doubles the recall of campaigns.
- Ensuring a proper distribution of contacts allows advertisers to double brand awareness.

The Killer Deck report showed that television now reaches some 70% of a country's population in a day, 90% in a week and virtually the entire population in a month. Given the amount of time we all spend watching TV, this format has become the most powerful of all advertising tools.

Research results in 2017

Toluna

Atresmedia Publicidad joined forces with Toluna in 2017, a leading technology company in the world of online market research and studies into the effectiveness of pre-roll video versus in-text video. Relying on online interviews, the study concluded that the pre-roll format is up to six times more effective than in-text video when it comes to brand recall.

Collaboration with Tres14 Research

Atresmedia has unveiled its Observatory of the Econometric Model for Effective Frequency on TV (MEFE Observatory). The observatory explores the numerous variables involved in an advertising campaign and analyses their impact on advertising penetration. It releases its findings once a year.

For the fourth straight year. Atresmedia has drawn up its ROI-Map (ROI on multimedia campaigns) study to measure the effectiveness and return of various advertising formats in generating brand awareness. The study also shows how different format mixes can impact return on investment and recall, and suggests a perfect balance of formats to maximise brand awareness. Launched in 2017, the ROI-Map simulates the results of investing in a mix of different formats -based on the client's specific needs- and reveals the ideal mix for improving their brand recall. More information at: http://roimap.atresmediapublicidad.com/.

Atresmedia has developed the METRAC model to analyse visits to car dealerships, confirming that nearly three out of every ten people who visit a dealership to ask for more information on a particular model do so after having seen spots on television. The model shows that advertising has a direct impact on visits to dealerships and, therefore, on brand sales.

7.5. To our suppliers

Atresmedia draws a distinction between suppliers of content and suppliers of other goods and services needed for its business. All of them, however, must comply with the same principles enshrined in Atresmedia's Corporate Responsibility Policy by signing a clause that imposes certain obligations on the subject of environmental protection, human rights and content accessibility and diversity. All companies belonging to the Atresmedia Group employ the same procurement model.

> Atresmedia insists that all suppliers sign a corporate responsibility clause, ensuring that not only the Group but also all the business it generates indirectly respects its values. its commitments under the Corporate Responsibility Policy, and also the principles of equality, non-discrimination, diversity and inclusion.

7.5.1. Production companies

Atresmedia Televisión hand picks and controls all the content it produces and broadcasts, thus ensuring that all of its products reflect the Group's values and meet the expected standards of quality. The Content Committee sees to it that these values are observed across the entire content creation process and the Production Department reflects these commitments in the contracts signed with the producers that supply the content. In its dealings with producers, Atresmedia enforces strict compliance with applicable law on occupational risk prevention, sector-specific agreements and any other law or regulation that may apply, including the protection of human rights.

In 2017, a total of 93 programmes were produced by a total of 24 production companies. Ten series were produced during the year, each by a different production company.

Atresmedia also attempts to get its production companies involved in projects that have a social impact. In 2017, Atresmedia encouraged its production companies to make people with Down syndrome part of their workforce. This prompted production firm Secuoya to sign a collaboration agreement with Fundación Down Madrid to hire three people with Down syndrome. Meanwhile, employees of production company Boomerang took part in the "Vive su realidad" awareness event organised by Fundación Atresmedia to improve the job prospects of disabled people. Several of Atresmedia's production partners also took part in the Atresmedia Formación. (Atresmedia Formación) project.

7.5.2. Distributors

Atresmedia acquires broadcasting rights for those products that are not produced exclusively for Atresmedia Televisión, including feature length films, TV movies, documentaries and entertainment shows produced by third parties. Atresmedia's External Production Department manages and oversees relations with the distributors of this third-party audiovisual content.

Due to the ongoing concentration of the international content distribution market, the number of distributors was down 8% in 2017, while proposals to award contracts were up by the same percentage, largely due to the consolidation of new channels Atreseries and Mega.

> The domestic market accounts for 43% of distribution companies and 54% of the 215 proposals to award contracts.

The process of acquiring broadcasting rights is a cross-company affair involving the finance department, legal affairs, programming and internal audit. Applications are processed through the internal approvals system, which ensures process transparency and makes the terms of the contract visible internally.

> Externally produced content is viewed on the Atresplayer platform, allowing it to reach a wider and more diverse audience.

Atresmedia works alongside content distributors to ensure the protection of intellectual property rights, employing standard security and encryption measures for audiovisual content through AES algorithms and DRM systems such as Widevine, Playready and Fairplay.

7.5.3. Other suppliers of goods and services

Procurement of the goods and services needed for the Atresmedia Group to carry on its business is centralised at the Procurement Department, which is purpose-built to provide service to all Group companies. The department has a Purchasing Committee, comprising the CEO, the Chief Audit Executive, the CFO and the Chief Control Officer, to provide a second layer of control over acquisitions considered significant in qualitative or quantitative terms (any acquisition exceeding 50,000 euros).

The existence of a company-wide procurement policy and department ensures:

In 2017, the department arranged a total of 60.85 million euros in purchases from 1,302 different suppliers. Of these, 93% were Spanish companies and 7% foreign, although the expenditure breakdown was slightly different: 89% relating to domestic suppliers and 11% for foreign suppliers. Of total purchasing, 75% came from Madrid, 17% from Catalonia and 3% from Andalusia.

|  | 2016  | 2017  |
|--|-------|-------|
| Spending on purchasing                 | 59.49 | 60.85 |
| Number of suppliers                    | 1,245 | 1,302 |
| % of national suppliers                | 93    | 93    |
| % of purchases from national suppliers | 91    | 89    |

The average supplier payment period in 2017 was 56 days.

7.6. To the environment

Although its activities have only a limited environmental impact, Atresmedia has an Environmental Policy in place embodying its commitment to environmental protection. Atresmedia takes steps to ensure that its own activities have as little an impact as possible on the environment, but beyond that it also believes that it can help protect the environment by making society more aware of the issue and informing the public of the important role each of us plays in this process. Atresmedia therefore brings its considerable broadcasting outreach to bear across all of its communication channels.

|                                       | 2015    | 2016    | 2017    |
|---------------------------------------|---------|---------|---------|
| Investment in the environment (€)     | 111,481 | 120,495 | 140,082 |
| Consumption of plain paper (kg)       | 27,566  | 26,813  | 25,275  |
| Consumption of toner (units)          | 652     | 1,147   | 1,063   |
| Consumption of heating oil (GJ)       | 18,742  | 18,436  | 16,861  |
| Electricity consumption (GJ)          | 105,395 | 106,641 | 108,069 |
| Gas consumption (GJ)                  | 524     | 424     | 353     |
| Petrol consumption for transport (GJ) | 466     | 509     | 895     |
| Diesel consumption for transport (GJ) | 1,813   | 1,718   | 1,467   |

Note: the conversion factors used to convert units to GJ are shown in table A7.1 of the GHG Inventory Report published by MAPAMA and IDAE (Spanish Institute for Energy Diversification and Savings).

Atresmedia's investment in environmental protection in 2017 came to 140,082 euros, broken down as follows:

- 74,719 euros to improve the air conditioning system, yielding annual savings
- 43,350 euros to improve the heating system, yielding annual savings of 49,720 kWh
- 16,296 euros on a new kitchen
- 5,717 euros to install solar filters and polyurethane foam

Environmental investing will generate energy savings of some 417,185 kWh a year.

7.6.1. Efficient use of resources and waste management

Atresmedia is aware of the huge importance of using resources responsibly so as to ensure the sustainability of the environment. It therefore strives to minimise consumption and is careful to pick responsible suppliers.

Use of materials

By installing printers in communal areas of the building and raising employee awareness of the need to cut down on paper use, the Atresmedia Group has managed to cut consumption of its two main inputs.

All the paper consumed (office and sanitary) has earned FSC or PEFC assurance.

The Company insists that all toner waste be recycled: to be given a new cartridge, the user must present the spent one.

All computer and IT material is removed and treated by an authorised waste management company and the proceeds obtained from reusing components in 2017 were donated to the DEBRA-Piel de Mariposa association.

Consumption of light bulbs and fluorescent lighting increased in 2017 because the lighting at various construction areas that require 500 lux reached the end of its useful life in the year. All discarded material is recycled.

Energy consumption

After investing in a new kitchen and upgrading its heating and air conditioning systems, the Group reported a significant reduction in gas and fossil fuel consumption in 2017. Meanwhile, renewable energy sources accounted for 63% of all electricity consumed by Atresmedia in 2017.

• Fuel consumed by Atresmedia vehicles was up 75.8% (petrol), due to the acquisition of 19 mobile units for Onda Cero, which run on petrol. These new vehicles are there to replace 15 older vehicles, the removal of which has led to a 14.6% reduction in diesel consumption.

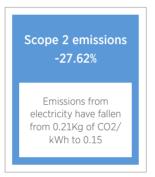

• The slight increase in electricity consumption (1.33%) was prompted by the increase in television and radio production (due to the busy political agenda in Spain and Europe, among other factors), and by the higher average temperature for the year, which pushed up equipment cooling costs.

7.6.2. Reducing emissions

Atresmedia prioritises rail transport ahead of air transport for all medium-haul journeys. Its other initiatives have also made significant progress in reducing greenhouse gas emissions as shown below:

|   | 2015  | 2016  | 2017  |
|---|-------|-------|-------|
| Scope 1 direct CO2 emissions (tCO2eq)   | 1,562 | 1,552 | 1,440 |
| Scope 2 indirect CO2 emissions (tCO2eq) | 3,513 | 6,221 | 4,503 |
| Scope 3 indirect CO2 emissions (tCO2eq) | 715   | 1,361 | 1,380 |

Carbon intensity stood at 0.7 tonnes of CO2 equivalent per employee for scope 1; 2.2 for scope 2 and 0.7 for scope 3.

As well as monitoring its greenhouse gas emissions and complying with current regulations on emissions audits, Atresmedia is a firm believer in voluntary reviews and inspections in order to flag emissions of other pollutant gases. Due to the nature of Atresmedia's business activities, these other emissions are not considered significant.

| Gas | Emissions in 2017 | Limit       |
|-----|-------------------|-------------|
| NOx | 207 ppm           | 1,200 ppm   |
| SOx | 215 mg/m3N        | 3,400mg/m3N |
| CO  | 279 ppm           | 5,780 ppm   |

Note 1: figures on emissions (scope 1) have been calculated using the final energy conversion ratios published by IDAE (for diesel and motor petrol) and the emission ratios provided in table A7.1 (for natural gas and diesel oils) and table A8.2 (for motor petrol) of the GHG Inventory Report. Figures on direct emissions of CO2, NOx, SOx and CO relate to the work centre at San Sebastián de los Reyes. Figures on other pollutant gases have been obtained from samples taken by ATISAE.

Note 2: To obtain the data on indirect emissions from electricity consumption (scope 2), the annual information provided by IBERDROLA was used, referring to the source of the electricity supplied and the electric consumption produced. The energy supplied is 63 % renewable and 37 % non-renewable.

Note 3: In or der to obtain the da ta on indirect emissions from air travel (scope 3) the calculation method used was the website http://carbon-calculator.org.uk/.

Atresmedia's commitment to combating climate change is reflected in its involvement in the Carbon Disclosure Project (CDP), which sees the Company releasing an annual report on climate change. In 2017, ATRESMEDIA earned a score of "C" from the CDP.

7.6.3. Environmental awareness

Hazte Eco is a campaign associated with the NEOX channel. Conceived in 2010, it seeks to raise awareness of environmental issues by championing values that help protect the environment. The initiative aims to brings the public closer to pressing environmental concerns and helps viewers appreciate that their individual efforts add up. Through Hazte Eco, Atresmedia is taking the fight to one of the biggest problems facing humanity: climate change.

| Hazte Eco campaign                      |         |        |
|---|---------|--------|
|   | laSexta | 89     |
| Showings                                | Neox    | 299    |

| No. of news items posted online         |         | 866    |
| No. of mentions on social network pages |         | 3,650  |

In 2017, Hazte Eco took part in Greenpeace's Save the Climate campaign by broadcasting a spot that calls on society to take action. Hazte Eco was also involved in the IV edition of Planeta Responsable (Responsible Planet), a pre-eminent forum for companies and experts committed to improving the planet through innovation, sustainability and corporate responsibility (CR). It did so by taking part in talks and in promoting the event on the various news programmes of the Atresmedia Group.

Over the summer period, Hazte Eco showed an awareness campaign on Neox, alerting the public to the real threat of forest fires in our country. To provide further weight to the campaign, Atresmedia joined the Cartas desde el Bosque (Letters from the Forest) initiative via the Internet, social networks and through programmes such as Zapeando (laSexta).

A further highlight for the year included Atresmedia's collaboration in broadcasting the fourth edition of Comparte y Recicla (Share and Recycle) on both Nexo Kidz and Onda Cero. The toy collection programme has Fundación Crecer Jugando at the helm and at its heart the right of children to play, along with respect for the environment and responsible consumption. In 2017, more than 130 tonnes of toys were collected, 40% of which were recycled.

The programmes shown by Atresmedia also help raise social awareness of the importance of caring for the environment, embracing Sustainable Development Goals 6, 7, 14 and 15. For more information, see Contribution to the SDGs.

ABOUT THIS REPORT

8.1. Boundaries and preparation process

(GRI 102-46, 102-48, 102-49)

This is now Atresmedia's eleventh Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report, providing key information on the Company's results and performance on matters relating to sustainability from a financial, social and environmental standpoint.

This Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report has been drawn up in accordance with prevailing reporting requirements and practices, following the new standards of the Global Reporting Initiative and also the recommendations provided under the international framework for preparing integrated reports developed by the International Integrated Reporting Council (IIRC).

Coverage and scope: for the first time in 2017, the report follows the new standards of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) released in the year. It has also been verified by an independent external organisation. This report has been drawn up in accordance with GRI Standards: Core option. The Group also relied on the Media Sector Disclosures Supplement of the GRI Guidelines G4, which have remained in effect following the entry into force of the new GRI Standards. The report covers the period running from 1 January 2017 through to 31 December 2017 and covers the business activities of the different Atresmedia companies (Atresmedia Televisión, Atresmedia Radio, Atresmedia Publicidad, Atresmedia Digital, Atresmedia Diversificación, Atresmedia Cine, Fundación Atresmedia and Smartclip Latam SL since its acquisition in late May). The information contained in the report has been obtained from a materiality assessment of the Group and no material content has been deliberately omitted. Any departures from the scope and coverage of the information are duly noted under the corresponding section of the report. Likewise, any changes to the formulas used to calculate the data included in the report have been duly reported.

Materiality: the materiality of the content of this report has been determined from the in-house and external consultation process described under "Description of the materiality assessment". All relevant material aspects have been analysed to identify how they relate to the specific content and indicators included in the new GRI G4 Standards. Atresmedia has selected those disclosures that truly respond to the interests of stakeholders and its own strategy.

8.2. GRI content index

In accordance with the GRI Standards, Atresmedia has received confirmation from GRI that its disclosures are in line with the criteria of the Materiality Disclosures Service.

INDEPENDENT LIMITED ASSURANCE REPORT ON THE CORPORATE RESPONSIBILITY INDICATORS

To the Management of Atresmedia Corporación de Medios de Comunicación, S.A.:

We have carried out our work to provide limited assurance on the Corporate Responsibility indicators contained in section "GRI Content Index" of the 2017 Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report (hereinafter "CR Indicators") of Atresmedia Corporación de Medios de Comunicación, S.A. and its subsidiaries (hereinafter "Afresmedia") for the year ended 31 December 2017, prepared in accordance with the content proposed in the GRI Standards of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) (hereinafter GRI Standards) and the Media Sector Disclosures of the GRI Guidelines version G4 (hereinafter Media Sector Disclosures).

Responsibility of the Management

The Management of Atresmedia is responsible for the preparation, content and presentation of the Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report in accordance with the Core option of the GRI Standards and Media Sector Disclosures. Management's responsibility includes establishing, implementing and maintaining the internal control required to ensure that the CR indicators are free from any material misstatement due to fraud or error.

The Management of Atresmedia is also responsible for defining, implementing, adapting and maintaining the management systems from which the information required to prepare the CR indicators is obtained.

Our responsibility

Our responsibility is to issue a limited assurance report based on the procedures that we have carried out and the evidence obtained. Our limited assurance engagement was done in accordance with the International Standard on Assurance Engagements 3000 (Reviewed) "Assurance Engagements other than Audits or Reviews of Historical Financial Information", issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board (IAASB) of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC).

The scope of a limited assurance engagement is substantially less extensive than the scope of a reasonable assurance engagement and thus, less security is provided.

The procedures that we have carried out are based on our professional judgment and have included consultations, observation of processes, document inspection, analytical procedures and random sampling tests. The general procedures employed are described below:

- Meetings with Atresmedia's personnel from various departments who have been involved in the preparation of the 2017 Annual and Corporate Responsibility Report of Atresmedia.
- Analysis of the procedures used for obtaining and validating the data presented in the CR indicators.

- Analysis of the Atresmedia's CR indicators adaptation to the requirements established by the GRI Standards for the preparation of sustainability reports and to the Media Sector Disclosures.
- Verification, through random sampling tests revisions, internal control tests and substantive tests on the information used to determine Atresmedia's CR indicators. We have also verified whether they have been appropriately compiled from the data provided by Atresmedia's sources of information.

Our Independence and Quality Control

We have fulfilled our work in accordance with the independence requirements and other chical requirements of the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants of the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA), which are based on basic principles of integrity, objectivity, professional competence and diligence, confidentiality and professional conduct.

Our firm applies the International Standard on Quality Control 1 (ISQC 1) and thus employs an exhaustive quality control system which includes documented policies and procedures on the compliance of ethical requirements, professional standards, statutory laws and applicable regulations.

Limited assurance conclusion

As a result of the procedures carried out and the evidence obtained, no matters have come to our attention which may lead us to believe that Atresmedia's CR indicators, for the financial year ending 31st December 2017, contain significant errors or have not been prepared, in all of their significant matters, in accordance with the GRI Standards and with the Media Sector Disclosures.

Use and Distribution

Our report is only issued to the Management of Atresmedia, in accordance with the terms and conditions of our engagement letter. We do not assume any liability to third parties other than Atresmedia's Management.
